Teens And Libraries Getting It Right:

Teens and Libraries Virginia A. Walter, Elaine Meyers, 2003-07-21 Getting it right means understanding our roles as adults and professionals Getting it right requires a genuine commitment to youth participation Getting it right is about shifting our perspective from the library to the community in which it is located Getting it right makes it imperative that we give teens a place of their own in our libraries From the Preface Libraries have opportunities to make a positive difference in the lives of teenage customers and become a primary support for teens in the communities they serve Truly excellent library services for young adults YA need the collaborative efforts of both teens and librarians To build this partnership the authors share an inspiring narrative of YA history and also offer a plethora of new voices and stories that advocate the power of technology and teen spaces These story lines are then melded to highlight practical tools to involve teens at the library and make a bright future possible As the authors explore what has been done well and what hasn't in the world of young adult librarianship they identify key issues from the plethora of new voices How librarians can work with not for young adult customers Why the power of place means actual square footage designed for teens Ways to incorporate technology to achieve developmental outcomes Listening to teen voices to better serve their needs How evaluation and being accountable will close the loop on effective advocacy The authors guide both librarians and administrators to make promises for the future and present a strategy for keeping those promises so that young adult audiences can become active library and community participants From building partnerships to implementing successful programs to incorporating technology that helps teens assume leadership and responsibility this is an inspiring yet practical take on what it means to get it right for teens in the library

Teen Library Events Kirsten Edwards, 2001-10-30 If you are a new young adult librarian or an experienced librarian with little time to plan and execute programs for teens this book is for you For each month in the calendar year two or three programs popular with teens are presented with instructions sample flyers letters and checklists From simple programs such as a candy raffle to more complex programs such as a mystery night librarians can keep their teen calendar full of activities with a minimum of effort Programs that tie into both school events and national events for teens are included as well as those that can be presented at an individual library Suggestions for programs range from a poetry contest to a summer job program Instructions for ongoing procedures for soliciting teens opinions are provided a monthly question board candy raffle starting and running a Teen Advisory Board and so on Basic skills for all YA librarians are emphasized in each of the programs these skills include booktalking working with the schools and marketing your programs within the library and to the community By creating variations in each of the programs young adult librarians will have a wealth of ideas in this book to keep their YA program calendar filled for years to come
