Shakespeare on screen : Television Shakespeare Nathalie Vienne-Guerrin, Sarah Hatchuel, Television Shakespeare 1 expression à elle encore un sens une poque où Shakespeare la télévision ne se retrouve plus la série BBC mais est devenu notamment au fil des innovations technologiques un concept de plus en plus hybride porteur d'une infinie variété. Ce volume offre au lecteur un examen précis des adaptations et visuelles des pièces shakespeariennes tout en questionnant les limites poreuses que le 21e siècle fait apparaître entre la télévision et les autres médias. Shakespeare semble pouvoir ou devoir se permettre toutes les métamorphoses.

Branding the 'Beur' Author Kathryn A. Kleppinger, 2015-12-30 This book reconsiders authorship by the descendants of North African immigrants to France by consulting how these authors' novels have been discussed and promoted in the national audio-visual media.

Turning On the Mind Tamara Chaplin, 2007-12 In 1951 the eight o'clock nightly news reported on Jean Paul Sartre for the first time. By the end of the twentieth century more than 3 500 programs dealing with philosophy and its practitioners including Bachelard, Badiou, Foucault, Lyotard and Lvy had aired on French television. According to Tamara Chaplin this enduring commitment to bringing the most abstract and least visual of disciplines to the French public challenges our very assumptions about the incompatibility of elite culture and mass media. Indeed it belies the conviction that television is inevitably anti-intellectual and the quintessential archenemy of the book. Chaplin argues that the history of the televising of philosophy is crucial to understanding the struggle over French national identity in the postwar period. Linking this history to decolonization, modernization and globalization, Turning On the Mind claims that we can understand neither the markedly public role that philosophy came to play in French society during the late twentieth century nor the renewed interest in ethics and political philosophy in the early twenty-first unless we acknowledge the work of television. Throughout Chaplin insists that we jettison presumptions about the anti-intellectual nature of the visual field: it engages critical questions about the survival of national cultures in a globalizing world and encourages us to rethink philosophy itself, ultimately asserting that the content of the discipline is indivisible from the new media forms in which it has found expression.
