The Early Modern Englishwoman A Facsimile Library Of Ebntial Works Printed Writings 15001640 Anne Wheathill:

Life Writings I Elizabeth Skerpan-Wheeler,2017-03-02 Early modern men and women represented their lives very differently from twentieth century autobiographers sharing none of the current preoccupation with individuality and the unique self The writers represented in this two volume collection sought connections between particular events in their lives and the larger pattern of Christian salvation The texts reproduced here are united in the way they interconnect personal experiences and feelings with scriptural passages in an attempt to understand daily life in spiritual terms Almost all the women whose works appear in these volumes would have been considered religious radicals by their contemporaries Living through the turbulent times of the English Revolution 1642 1660 it is unsurprising that their life writings are marked by a sense of persecution Many of them spent time in prison Katherine Evans Sarah Cheevers and Barbara Blaugdane were all imprisoned for preaching the faith of The Society of Friends while Mary Rowlandson spent several months as a captive of North American Indians In her introduction to these writings Elizabeth Skerpan Wheeler provides brief biographical sketches of these writers together with details of the publication history of each text With the exception of Rowlandson s works the writings in these volumes are the first complete unabridged editions in modern times The Early Modern Englishwoman Catherine Parr,1996 The Early Modern Englishwoman: Anne Wheathill ,1996 Anne Wheathill Patrick Cullen,2016-12-05 The only reliable clues available about Anne Wheathill s life are those contained in her work published in 1584 She describes herself as a gentlewoman unmarried and a Protestant She also refers to herself as poor and it has been suggested that she was one of a handful of women in Elizabeth I s reign who attempted to earn money by writing A handful of holesome though homelie hearbs is an example of the English Reformer s efforts to revise the Roman Catholic primers and Books of Hours to satisfy the private devotional needs of a Protestant middle class Although Anne Wheathill apologises for her inexperience and lack of learned counsel her text requires no apology for reprinting in this facsimile edition It is the work of someone who has mastered the cadence of the best English religious prose of her age *The early modern Englishwoman : a facsimile library of essential works. plans and piety A close relation to these works of advice was the parental advice book usually written by a father to his son It was not until the early 17th century that the mother s advice book evolved and even then these were often legitimated by the female authors claiming that sickness or even impending death made relaying their motherly advice by a means other than print impossible The contents of the present volume ordered chronologically by the date of the first edition of each advice book are limited to works attributed to named mothers even though information about these historical women is not always abundant Miscellanea was the attempt of Elizabeth Grymeston to distill advice to her only surviving It was first published in 1604 The text reproduced here is the 1608 edition which was the first to include the additional substantive Prayers Even though listings indicate there were 19 editions of The Mother s Blessing before 1640 very little is known of Dorothy Leigh The first edition 1616 reproduced here describes her as a gentle woman not long deceased and her dedicatory epistle to her three sons identifies her as a widow Elizabeth Clinton wrote her advice book when she had become countess dowager It was dedicated to her daughter in law and addresses an area where she had apparently been deficient the imperative directed at early modern women by domestic conduct books that mothers should nurse their own children The edition reproduced here is the British Library copy Elizabeth Brook Joceline composed her Legacy whilst awaiting the birth of her first child having become convinced that she would die in childbirth She died in 1622 nine days after the birth of a daughter Possibly the most poignant of the mother s advice books this was intended to stand in for her instructi Defences of Women Susan Gushee O'Malley,1996 The Early Modern Englishwoman ,2000 Protestant Translators: Anne Lock Prowse and Elizabeth Russell Anne Prowse,Elaine V.
