The Daughters of the Plaza de Mayo David Moshman, 2006 In the late 1970s some 30 000 Argentines mostly young men and women thought to have leftist sympathies were kidnapped and tortured to death by the military government which denied what was happening In response the mothers of the disappeared came together and marched in Buenos Aires at the Plaza de Mayo demanding week after week that their children be returned or accounted for Democracy was finally restored with promises of truth and justice As memory gave way to historical amnesia however and judicial processes to reconciliation the Mothers of the Plaza de Mayo continued to march Do not forget they insisted do not forgive Sixty years later a nonlocalizable electronic agent that calls itself the Daughters of the Plaza de Mayo emerges on the global Network No one knows what the Daughters are or what they want They tell horrifying stories from Argentina and elsewhere They provide seemingly endless lists of victims names They invoke El Eternauta a comic book character from a space beyond time to press a moral perspective that demands the impossible They are singular and plural informative and obscure irritating threatening unclassifiable and relentless in the pursuit of their agenda whatever that may be The Daughter's Way Tanis MacDonald, 2012-09-01 The Daughter's Way investigates negotiations of female subjectivity in twentieth century Canadian women's elegies with a special emphasis on the father's death as a literary and political watershed. The book examines the work of Dorothy Livesay, P. K. Page, Jay Macpherson, Margaret Atwood, Kristjana Gunnars, Lola Lemire Tostevin, Anne Carson, and Erin Mour as elegiac daughteronomies, literary artifacts of mourning that grow from the poet's investigation into the function and limitations of elegiac convention. Some poets treat the father as a metaphor for socio-political power, while others explore more personal iterations of loss, but all the poets in The Daughter's Way seek to redefine daughterly duty in a contemporary context by challenging elegiac tradition through questions of genre and gender. Beginning with psychoanalytical theories of filiation, inheritance, and mourning as they are complicated by feminist challenges to theories of kinship and citizenship, The Daughter's Way debates the efficacy of the literary work of mourning in twentieth century Canadian poetry. By investigating the way a daughter's filial piety performs and sometimes reconfigures such work and situating melancholia as a creative force in women's elegies, the book considers how elegies inquire into the rhetoric of mourning as it is complicated by father-daughter kinship. The Daughters Of A Genius Mrs. George De Horne

Vaizey, 2024-01-01 The Daughters of a Genius is a unique story written with the aid of Mrs. George de Horne Vaizey, a prolific British author. Published in the early twentieth century, the story revolves around the Randall sisters, Mags and Bab, who are the daughters of a top-notch, however eccentric, inventor. The narrative follows the sisters as they navigate the challenges of growing up inside the midst of their father's genius and unconventional way of life. The plot unfolds with a mix of humor, drama, and romance as the Randall circle of relatives copes with the peculiarities of their inventor father. The daughters, Mags and Bab, are portrayed as shrewd and spirited younger girls who find themselves entangled in numerous funny and heartwarming situations. The novel explores subject matters of family dynamics, societal expectations, and the pursuit of man or woman passions. Vaizey's storytelling is characterized by a charming blend of wit and perception into human nature. Through the lens of the Randall family, she offers readers a glimpse into the comical and occasionally hard elements of life with a genius. A daughter of Eve. A commission in lunacy. The Greatest Mystery Joséphine Tey, 2015-03-28 Alan Grant, Scotland Yard Inspector, is feeling bored while confined to bed in hospital with a broken leg. Marta Hallard, an actress friend of his, suggests that he should amuse himself by researching a historical mystery. She brings him some pictures of historical characters aware of Grant's interest in human faces. He becomes intrigued by a portrait of King Richard III. He prides himself on being able to read a person's character from his appearance, and King Richard seems to him a gentle and kind and wise man. Why is everyone so sure that he was a cruel murderer? With the help of other friends and acquaintances, Grant investigates Richard's life and the case of the Princes in the Tower testing out his theories on the doctors and nurses who attend to him Grant spends weeks pondering historical information and documents with the help of Brent Carradine a likeable young American researcher working in the British Museum Using his detective s logic he comes to the conclusion that the claim of Richard being a murderer is a fabrication of Tudor propaganda as is the popular image of the King as a monstrous hunchback The Daughter of Time ,2003 While recuperating from a broken leg Inspector Alan Grant of Scotland Yard embarks on a search through history for the truth behind Richard III s alleged murder of his brother s children in a classic of the mystery genre The Daughter of Time Josephine Tey,1975 A Dragon Child: Reflections of a Daughter of Annam in America Lucy Nguyen-Hong-Nhiem,2004-10-11 A Dragon Child Reflections of a Daughter of Annam in America is the story of a Vietnamese Catholic raised within the structure of the French colonial system Her upbringing was somewhat privileged as the daughter of a provincial administrator in the central highlands of Vietnam As a child and later as a young woman she embraced French culture and aspired to French ideals She was educated at a French boarding school for the children of the elite Subsequently she received a degree in French teaching from the University of Saigon and became a lycee teacher and administrator In 1975 she left on one of the last military planes accompanied by her four children and entered a new life as a refugee in the U S She ultimately resettled in Western Massachusetts She then went back to school and obtained her Ph D in Francophone literature After seeing to her children s education she began her academic career and started to teach French in the Five College academic community She has fulfilled the American dream as have her children In the process she has rediscovered her cultural roots and has helped others to negotiate the same path A Hebrew and English Lexicon of the Old Testament Wilhelm Gesenius,1894 The Home-maker Marion Harland,1890 Arcana Coelestia Emanuel Swedenborg,1879 Dr. William Smith's Dictionary of the Bible William Smith,1888 A History of the Donaldson Family and Its Connections Warren A.
