The Deified Life:

Deified Person Nicholas Bamford, 2011-12-16 Deified Person A Study of Deification in Relation to Person and Christian Becoming focuses on a theological exploration of person through the notion of deification and is placed within a Christian Orthodox Byzantine context. The book offers new interpretations of person in relation to Christian becoming while at the same time exploring some of the difficult avenues of Christian theological developments. Nicholas Bamford encourages theological inquiry and the book will appeal to those who wish to challenge ideas and push the boundaries forward. The

One Christ David Vincent Meconi, 2013 By treating Augustine's passages on deification both chronologically and constructively, Meconi situates Augustine in a long chorus of Christian pastors and theologians who understand the essence of Christianity as the human person's total and transformative union with God. Deified Vision: Towards an Anagogical

Catholicism Philip Krill, 2017-09-29 DEIFIED VISION TOWARDS AN ANAGOGICAL CATHOLICISM is an attempt at activating an anagogical imagination. It requires of us that we pray for a share in God's own contemplation of the world that we allow our imaginations to get lifted up into His own that we desire to receive through the illumination of His Holy Spirit a participation in His own love and desire for all. He has created One author has called this process acquiring an epistemic participation in the Mind of Christ. The Oxford Handbook of Deification Paul L. Gavrilyuk, 2024 This handbook offers a comprehensive and varied study of deification within Christian theology. Forty-six leading experts in the field examine points of convergence and difference on the constitutive elements of deification across different writers, thinkers, and traditions.

Imitation, Knowledge, and the Task of Christology in Maximus the Confessor Luke Steven, 2020-03-10 Maximus the Confessor 580-662 was a monk and theologian whose combative historical era committed doctrinal reflection and loud and influential voice took him on a turbulent career of traveling and writing around the Mediterranean. Maximus was a spiritual teacher, an ascetic, a man in love with Scripture and with Christ, the Word at Scripture's heart. He was also a polemicist, a crafter of dogma, an embattled christologist, a premeditating rhetorician. In this study, Luke Steven picks up a spiritual and philosophical strand that binds together these two disparate sides of the man and his writings. Steven argues that throughout his oeuvre, the Confessor positions imitation as the key to knowledge. This lasting epistemology characterizes his earlier ascetic and spiritual works and in his later works it prominently defines his dogmatic christological method that is the means by which he communicates and persuades and brings people to understand and encounter Jesus Christ, the one with two natures, divine and human. This is a multifaceted study that offers a deep assessment of Maximus's forebears, new insight on the animating assumptions of his thought, and an unprecedented focus on the rhetoric and method of his christological writings. Life, 1900 The Living Church, 1894 Church History Johann Heinrich Kurtz, John Macpherson, 1888
