The Dynamic Choral Conductor:

The Dynamic Choral Conductor Royal Stanton, 1971 Choral Conducting Colin Durrant, 2012-11-12 Choral Conducting is a resource for singers teachers and choral conductors and a college level text for students of choral conducting It also includes an overview of what is involved in leading a choral group and examines theories of learning and human behaviour and the history of choral music together with conductor s role The book also discusses issues of the conductor vocalist relationship the mechanics of singing rehearsal strategies and more Choral Conducting and the Construction of Meaning Liz Garnett, 2017-07-05 It is a truism in teaching choral conducting that the director should look like s he wishes the choir to sound The conductor s physical demeanour has a direct effect on how the choir sings at a level that is largely unconscious and involuntary It is also a matter of simple observation that different choral traditions exhibit not only different styles of vocal production and delivery but also different gestural vocabularies which are shared not only between conductors within that tradition but also with the singers It is as possible to distinguish a gospel choir from a barbershop chorus or a cathedral choir by visual cues alone as it is simply by listening But how can these forms of physical communication be explained Do they belong to a pre cultural realm of primate social bonding or do they rely on the context and conventions of a particular choral culture Is body language an inherent part of musical performance styles or does it come afterwards in response to music At a practical level to what extent can a practitioner from one tradition mandate an approach as good practice and to what extent can another refuse it on the grounds that we don t do it that way This book explores these questions at both theoretical and practical levels It examines textual and ethnographic sources and draws on theories from critical musicology and nonverbal communication studies to analyse them By comparing a variety of choral traditions it investigates the extent to which the connections between conductor demeanour and choral sound operate at a general level and in what ways they are constructed within a specific idiom Its findings will be of interest both to those engaged in the study of music as a cultural practice and to practitioners involved in a choral conducting context that increasingly demands fluency in a variety of styles Leadership and Musician Development in Higher Music Education Dawn Bennett, Jennifer Rowley, Patrick Schmidt, 2018-12-21 Leadership and Musician Development in Higher Music Education informs challenges and evaluates the central practices policies and theories that underpin the preparation of future music leaders and the leadership of music in higher education In higher education it is often presumed that preparing for professional work is the responsibility of the individual rather than the institution This anthology draws on the expertise of music practitioners to present the complexities surrounding this topic exploring approaches to leadership development while addressing prevalent leadership issues from multiple standpoints Leadership is an inherent part of being a musician from the creative act through to collaborative engagement it is fundamental to creating and sustaining a career in music To expect musicians to develop these necessary skills on the job however is unreasonable and impractical What support might be given to those looking to negotiate a career as a musician In fourteen essays contributors from around the globe explore this question and more questions such as How might leadership be modelled for aspiring musicians How might students learn to recognise appraise and extend their leadership development How might institutional leaders challenge curricular and pedagogical norms Effective leadership development for musicians is vital to the longevity of the profession Leadership and Musician Development in Higher Music Education is a likewise vital resource for students educators and future music leaders alike
