The Arts at a New Frontier Fannie Taylor, Anthony L. Barresi, 2013-03-09 Profound changes were taking place in American society during the period of the 1960s and 1970s when legislation for the National Foundation for the Arts and the Humanities was enacted and the agencies went into operation It was a period of soul searching by the American public when the cherished prejudices and civil inequities of the past decades were wiped out and old wounds began to heal at the same time however the Vietnam War was creating new fissures and antagonisms Into this newly healing newly questioning society congressional action thrust the National Council on the Arts in 1964 and the National Endowment for the Arts in 1965 Their mission was to encourage and support the arts and the men and women charged with this responsibility went about their work with the zeal and enthusiasm of religious converts The idea of even a minute amount of federal financial assistance to the country's chronically beleaguered and often impoverished artists and arts organizations seemed strange to a segment of the population that had existed in forgot ten independence from government intervention Many of the nation's artists and arts leaders were wary partly because of the uncertainties and constraints of previous patterns of governmental support

Steve Suh,2022-06-20 The book presents a comprehensive treatment on a novel design theory that fosters innovative thinking and creativity essential for addressing wicked problems Wicked problems are ill defined ambiguous in both aims and solutions and complex with interconnected and intertwined coupled factors While being ubiquitous and difficult however wicked problems share characteristics common to science and design in three regards namely agent finitude system complexity and problem normativity These fundamental attributes allow a core cognitive process common to design and science to be identified and a strategic problem solving conception of methodology be formulated as a result The theory facilitates new opportunities for synergetic cross disciplinary research and practice by incorporating the essences of Extenics to axiomatic design Innovative thinking is enabled by exploring Extenics for problem reframing paradigm shift and abductive reasoning and by engaging axiomatic design in the co evolution iteration of the need and viable design concept The theory is unique in that it is a framework for quantifying imprecise and vague design information available during the conceptual design stage as mathematical expression and algorithm early in the design effort and enables the objective evaluation and emergence of an optimal design concept from among multitude of viable ones The book is conceived for students and real world practitioners in engineering natural and social sciences business and fine arts who seek to develop powerful design thinking for solving problems in a creative and innovative way    Darwiniana Asa Gray,1878    Building ,1900    Nature ,1897    The industrial self-instructor and technical journal Ward, Lock and co, ltd,1884
