Literature and Food Studies Amy Tigner, Allison Carruth, 2017-11-22 Literature and Food Studies introduces readers to a growing interdisciplinary field by examining literary genres and cultural movements as they engage with the edible world and in turn illuminate transnational histories of empire domesticity scientific innovation and environmental transformation and degradation. With a focus on the Americas and Europe Literature and Food Studies compares works of imaginative literature from Ovid's Metamorphoses and Shakespeare's The Winter's Tale to James Joyce's Ulysses and Toni Morrison's Tar Baby with what the authors define as vernacular literary practices which take written form as horticultural manuals recipes cookbooks restaurant reviews agricultural manifestos dietary treatises and culinary guides. For those new to its principal subject Literature and Food Studies introduces core concepts in food studies that span anthropology geography history literature and other fields it compares canonical literary texts with popular forms of print culture and it aims to inspire future research and teaching. Combining a cultural studies approach to foodways and food systems with textual analysis and archival research the book offers an engaging and lucid introduction for humanities scholars and students to the rapidly expanding field of food studies

Teaching Literature and Language Through Multimodal Texts Domínguez Romero, Elena, Bobkina, Jelena, Stefanova, Svetlana, 2018-08-17

In the past few decades there has been a growing interest in the benefits of linking the learning of a foreign language to the study of its literature. However, the incorporation of literary texts into language curriculum is not easy to tackle. As a result, it is vital to explore the latest developments in text based teaching in which language, culture and literature are taught as a continuum. Teaching Literature and Language Through Multimodal Texts provides innovative insights into multiple language teaching modalities for the teaching of language through literature in the context of primary, secondary and higher education. It covers a wide range of good practice and innovative ideas and offers insights on the impact of such practice on learners with the intention to inspire other teachers to reconsider their own teaching practices. It is a vital reference source for educators, professionals, school administrators, researchers and practitioners interested in teaching literature and language through multimodal texts.
