The Compulsive Personality Peter A. Magaro, Ph.D., 2020-09-29 This book is an analysis of the personality who is the backbone of the most powerful political and religious groups in Western society This book applies contemporary psychological constructs to explain the power structure from a psychosocietal perspective We describe national institutions such as universities and corporations and explain who succeeds in these settings and how the members of these groups are no more than a gathering of those with the Compulsive Personality As contrasted with other current books on personality or society I have written a psychosocietal work that profiles the complete personality of this person and their niche to reveal how their Everyman commonness contains the telltale signs of their eventual power My emphasis is on the personality and cognitive attributes of a person who is drawn to a life of intellectual organization and the social avenues that become available to express their singular personality They could become the most controversial people of our time the most despised and the most revered but not due to their own making but due to the groups they lead Their life is a paradox in that they create whirlwinds when they are not living in complete obscurity As individuals they are the dumbest but as social actors they are the most outrageous The point of this book is that social actions do not occur in a personal vacuum People's traits and cognitive styles fill them until they coalesce into a recognizable form which is the shape of a public group The decision for social action originates under the skin only later is it exhibited as a public posture This book reveals the person behind the social action I will describe the psychological processes and feelings of a breed of individuals as they blend into a group that promotes and creates the dominant institutions in our
