Little Songs Amy Christine Billone, 2021-01-29 In Little Songs Women Silence and the Nineteenth Century Sonnet Amy Christine Billone analyzes the bond between lyric poetry and silence in women's sonnets ranging from the late eighteenth century works of Charlotte Smith Helen Maria Williams and Anna Maria Smallpiece to Victorian texts by Elizabeth Barrett Christina Rossetti Isabella Southern and other lesser known female poets Although scholars acknowledge that women initiated the sonnet revival in England Little Songs is the only major study of nineteenth century female sonneteers Billone argues not that women's sonnets overcame silence in favor of lyrical speech during the nineteenth century sonnet revival but rather that women simultaneously posited both muteness and volubility through style and theme In opposition to criticism that stresses a modern shift from compensatory to non consolatory poems of mourning Billone demonstrates how women invented contemporary elegiac poetics a century in advance Adding to critical interest in the alliance between silence and literature this book offers a complex study of the overwhelming impact that silence makes not only on British women's poetry but also on the development of modern poetry and intellectual inquiry Ultimately Little Songs illustrates how the turn away from the kind of silence that preoccupied nineteenth century women poets introduced the start of twentieth century thought

The Nineteenth-Century Sonnet J. Phelan, 2005-12-05 What was the appeal of the Sonnet's scanty plot of ground to Romantic and Victorian poets How did a form which had fallen into disuse in the early eighteenth century become a central and enduring part of nineteenth century poetry This study traces the history and development of the sonnet throughout the nineteenth century examining the work of Wordsworth Keats Elizabeth Barrett Browning Christina Rossetti George Meredith and a number of other key canonical and non canonical writers

The Anthem Anthology of Victorian Sonnets Michael J. Allen, 2011 The Anthem Anthology of Victorian Sonnets is a comprehensive collection of three thousand sonnets written by poets between 1836 and the early years of the twentieth century The work contains a representative selection of sonnets for each individual poet in order to display the diversity and innovation brought to the sonnet form by Victorian poets

Lives of the Sonnet, 1787-1895 Dr Marianne Van Remoortel, 2013-05-28 In a series of representative case studies Marianne Van Remoortel traces the development of the sonnet during intense moments of change and stability continuity and conflict from the early Romantic period to the end of the nineteenth century Paying particular attention to the role of the popular press which served as a venue of innovation and as a site of recruitment for aspiring authors Van Remoortel redefines the scope of the genre including the ways in which its development is intricately related to issues of gender Among her subjects are the Della Cruscan and their primary critic William Gifford the young Samuel Taylor Coleridge and his circle Elizabeth Barrett Browning's Sonnets from the Portuguese George Meredith's Modern Love Dante Gabriel Rossetti's House of Life and Augusta Webster's Mother and Daughter As women became a force to be reckoned with among the reading public and the writing community the term sonnet often operated as a satirical label that was not restricted to poetry adhering to the strict formalities of the genre Van Remoortel's study in its attentiveness to the sonnet's feminization during the late eighteenth century offers important insights into the ways in which changing attitudes about gender and genre shaped critics' interpretations of the reception histories of nineteenth century sonnet sequences Lives of the Sonnet, 1787-1895 Marianne Van Remoortel, 2016-05-06 In a series of representative case studies Marianne Van Remoortel traces the development of the sonnet during intense moments of change and stability continuity and conflict from the early Romantic period to the end of the nineteenth century Paying particular attention to the role of the popular press which served as a venue of innovation and as a site of recruitment for aspiring authors Van Remoortel redefines the scope of the genre including the ways in which its development is intricately related to issues of gender Among her subjects are the Della Cruscans and their primary critic William Gifford the young Samuel Taylor Coleridge and his circle Elizabeth Barrett Browning's Sonnets from the Portuguese George Meredith's Modern Love Dante Gabriel Rossetti's House of Life and Augusta Webster's Mother and Daughter As women became a force to be reckoned with among the reading public and the writing community the term sonnet often operated as a satirical label that was not restricted to poetry adhering to the strict formalities of the genre Van Remoortel's study in its attentiveness to the sonnet's feminization during the late eighteenth century offers important insights into the ways in which changing attitudes about gender and genre shaped critics' interpretations of the reception histories of nineteenth century sonnet sequences Sonnet Sequences and Social Distinction in Renaissance England Christopher Warley, 2005-07-28 Why were sonnet sequences popular in Renaissance England In this study Christopher Warley suggests that sonneteers created a vocabulary to describe and to invent new forms of social distinction before an explicit language of social class existed The tensions inherent in the genre between lyric and narrative between sonnet and sequence offered writers a means of reconceptualizing the relation between individuals and society a way to try to come to grips with the broad social transformations taking place at the end of the sixteenth century By stressing the struggle over social classification the book revises studies that have tied the influence of sonnet sequences to either courtly love or to Renaissance individualism Drawing on Marxist aesthetic theory it offers detailed examinations of sequences by Lok Sidney Spenser Shakespeare and Milton It will be valuable to readers interested in Renaissance and genre studies and post Marxist theories of class Paratextuality in Anglophone and Hispanophone Poems in the US Press, 1855-1901 Ayendy Bonifacio, 2024-04-30 Drawing examples from over 200 English language and Spanish language newspapers and periodicals published between January 1855 and October 1901 Paratextuality in Anglophone and Hispanophone Poems in the US Press 1855 1901 argues that nineteenth century newspaper poems are inherently paratextual The paratextual situation of many newspaper poems their links to surrounding textual items and discourses their editorialisation through circulation the way poems were altered from newspaper to newspaper and their association and disassociation with certain celebrity bylines editors and newspaper titles enabled contemporaneous poetic value and taste
