Bickenbach,2014 This collection of original essays from both established scholars and newcomers takes up a debate that has recently flared up in philosophy sociology and disability studies on whether disability is intrinsically a harm that lowers a person's quality of life While this is a new question in disability scholarship it also touches on one of the oldest philosophical questions What is the good human life Historically philosophers have not been interested in the topic of disability and when they are it is usually only in relation to questions such as euthanasia abortion or the moral status of disabled people Consequently implicitly or explicitly disability has been either ignored by moral and political philosophers or simply equated with a bad human life a life not worth living This collection takes up the challenge that disability poses to basic questions of political philosophy and bioethics among others by focusing on fundamental issues as well as practical implications of the relationship between disability and the good human life Heritage Ecologies Torgeir Rinke Bangstad,Þóra Pétursdóttir,2021-08-23 Heritage Ecologies presents an ecological understanding of heritage that furthers a concern for how its making and unmaking always involves a wide range of human and other than human actors Recognizing the entangled nature cultures of heritage is essential in the Anthropocene era where uncertainty and rapid environmental change force us to recast common conceptions of inheritance and to envision new strategies for preservation Heritage sites are meant to be open and shared spaces and a recurring argument in the cases presented here is that this openness inevitably also overrides our selections orders and appreciations Through a diverse range of case studies the chapters collected in this book aim to explore the affects and memories engendered by diverse heritage ecologies where humans are neither the sole makers nor the only inheritors The common call is that the experiential perceptive and informational plenitude enabled through contributions of other than human actors is key to an ecological rethinking of heritage in the twenty first century Heritage Ecologies is unique in bringing heritage studies into closer proximity with a wide variety of non representational and object oriented theories and is an important volume for students and researchers in archaeology and heritage studies Live of the Irish Saints, with Special Festivals, and the Commemorations of Holy Persons O'Hanlon John Canon (Irish Catholic priest),1873 Lippincott's Monthly Magazine ,1877 A Select Library of Nicene and
