Way Metaphors and Way Topics in Isaiah 40-55 Øystein Lund, 2007 Øystein Lund gives a new approach to texts in Isaiah 40 55 that deal with ways and desert transformation Earlier exegesis has mainly read these texts in a literal way In recent years exegetes have pointed out that the so called exodus texts should rather be interpreted metaphorically The author supports this and accordingly seeks to continue this discourse by systematizing intensifying and deepening the argumentation for a metaphorical reading He argues that most of the way texts in Isaiah 40 55 are interrelated and gradually contribute to explore questions regarding the way situation of the people The way theme appears in the prologue and in 40 27 a problem approach is established when the people is addressed How can you say O Jacob and speak O Israel My way is hidden from the LORD and my right passes by my God Several subsequent way texts are related to this text and together these draw a coherent picture in which the problematic way situation of the people in the past and present is transformed JHWH establishes new ways in which he leads his people through their difficult landscape Øystein Lund argues that such a coherent reading of the way texts gives good meaning which is consistent with the over all message of Isaiah 40 55

The Four Ways to Construct Narratives on Origins Pascal Nouvel, 2021-01-05 The book proposes an originology an investigation into the discourses on origins This leads to the identification of four different types of discourses on origins the mythical discourses biblical Genesis or Hesiod's Theogony for example the rational discourses which either delve deeper or on the contrary attempt to disqualify the question of origins the scientific discourses of the Universe of the Earth of life of man as seen by the sciences and finally the phenomenological discourses which since Husserl propose a completely new way of entering into the question of origins The various ways in which one can talk about origins without exclusivity and without giving preference to any of these discourses are examined here The book shows that each of these discourses has a singular structure In order to this it defines ascending and descending types of discourse and demonstrates that scientific discourses are ascending mythical ones are descending rational ones are both ascending and descending and finally phenomenological ones are neither ascending nor descending It also shows that scientific discourses on origins did not themselves originate at the time of the scientific revolution but much later in the 19th century with Darwin It is biology that will pave the way to physics when it turns to discourses on origins not the other way around

The Active Life Michael J. McGandy, 2012-02-01 The ancient antagonism between the active and the contemplative lives is taken up in this innovative and wide ranging examination of John William Miller's effort to forge a metaphysics of democracy The Active Life sheds new light on Miller's actualist philosophy its scope its systematic character and its dialectical form Michael J McGandy persuasively sets Miller's actualism in the context of Hannah Arendt's understanding of the active life and skillfully presents actualism as a response to Whitman's challenge to craft a democratic form of metaphysics McGandy concludes that Miller reveals how the philosophical and the political are inextricably connected how there is no active life without the contemplative life and that the contemplative life is founded in the active life
