Sweet Terror:

The Best New Horror 6 Stephen Jones, 2013-11-28 The Best New Horror has established itself as the world's premier annual showcasing the talents of the very best writers working in the horror and dark fantasy field today. In this latest volume the multi-award winning editor has chosen razor sharp stories of suspense and disturbing tales of terror by writers on the cutting edge of the genre. Along with a comprehensive review of the year and a fascinating necrology, this is the book no horror fan can afford to miss.

Weird Mysticism Brad Baumgartner, 2020-11-17 Weird Mysticism identifies and evaluates a new category of theoretical inquiry by showing the influence of speculative writing on three intersecting critical categories: horror fiction, apophatic mysticism, and philosophical pessimism. Exploring the work of Thomas Ligotti, Georges Bataille, and E. M. Cioran, Baumgartner argues that these weird mystics employ an innovative mode of negative writing that seeks to merge new conceptions of reality. While exploring perennial questions about the absolute, the Outside, and other philosophical concepts, these authors push the limits of representation, experimenting with literary form, genre bending, and aphoristic discourse. As their works reveal, the category of weird mysticism both conjoins and obscures the link between traditional mysticism and philosophical horror fiction, with weirdness itself being the central magnet that draws the seemingly disparate realms of horror fiction, philosophy, and mysticism together. Highlighting the theoretical stakes of the horror genre, Baumgartner's study reveals how the mystical potentially recuperates the limits of philosophical thinking, enabling reflection on and possibly challenging the limits of human understanding.

Watchers: Culloden! William Meikle, Rethinking the Concept of the Grotesque Shun-Liang Chao, 2017-07-05 How are we to define what is grotesque in art or literature? Since the Renaissance, the term has been used for anything from the fantastic to the monstrous and been associated with many artistic genres, from the Gothic to the danse macabre. Shun-Liang Chao's new study adopts a rigorous approach by establishing contradictory physicality and the notion of metaphor as two keys to the construction of a clear identity of the grotesque. With this approach, Chao explores the imagery of Richard Crashaw, Charles Baudelaire, and René Magritte as individual exemplars of the grotesque in the Baroque, Romantic, and Surrealist ages in order to suggest a lineage of this curious aesthetic and to cast light on the functions of the visual and of the verbal in evoking it.
