A Fate Worse Than Death Gregory Michno,Susan Michno,2007 Captivity narratives have been a standard genre of writings about Indians of the East for several centuries a Until now the West has been almost entirely neglected a Now Gregory and Susan Michno have rectified that with this painstakingly researched collection of vivid and often brutal accounts of what happened to those men and women and children that were captured by marauding Indians during the settlement of the West When Battered Women Kill Angela Browne,2008-06-30 A compassionate look at 42 battered women who felt locked in with danger and so desperate that they killed a man they loved scholarly and compelling Fates Worse Than Death Brian St.Claire-King,2003-02 A role playing game of suspense horror and hope in 2080 on the streets of Manhattan

The Spectator ,1879 A weekly review of politics literature theology and art A Vietnam War Reader Michael H. Hunt,2010-02-15 An essential new resource for students and teachers of the Vietnam War this concise collection of primary sources opens a valuable window on an extraordinarily complex conflict The materials gathered here from both the American and Vietnamese sides remind readers that the conflict touched the lives of many people in a wide range of social and political situations and spanned a good deal more time than the decade of direct US combat. Indeed the US war was but one phase in a string of conflicts that varied significantly in character and geography. Michael Hunt brings together the views of the conflict's disparate players from Communist leaders, Vietnamese peasants, Saigon loyalists and North Vietnamese soldiers to US policymakers, soldiers and critics of the war. By allowing the participants to speak, this volume encourages readers to formulate their own historically grounded understanding of a still controversial struggle.

Making Sense of Death Gerry Cox, Robert Bendiksen, Robert Stevenson, 2021-11-18 The editors of Making Sense of Death: Spiritual, Pastoral and Personal Aspects of Death, Dying and Bereavement provide stimulating discussions as they ponder the meaning of life and death. This anthology explores the process of meaning making in the face of death and the roles of religion and spirituality at times of loss: the profound and devastating experience of loss in the death of a spouse or a child; a psychological model of spirituality; the dimensions of spirituality; humor in client-caregiver relationships; the worldview of modernity in contrast to postmodern assumptions; the Buddhist perspective of death, dying and pastoral care; meaning making in the virtual reality of cyberspace; individualism and death; and the historical context of Native Americans; the concept of disenfranchised grief and its detailed application to the Native American experience. It also explores a qualitative survey on the impact of the shooting deaths of students in Colorado; a team approach with physicians, nursing, social services and pastoral care; a study of health care professionals comparing clergy with other health professionals; marginality in spiritual and pastoral care for the dying; a qualitative research study of registered nurses in the northeast United States; and loss and growth in the seasons of life.
