The Golden Dragon Alf J. Mapp, 2014-08-18 King Alfred Everybody knows that he is called the Great but few remember why Forgetfulness is strange for few men have led lives so full of physical mental and spiritual adventure or influenced in so many ways the lives of people in every part of the globe The Golden Dragon is his fascinating and moving story told afresh with the aid of recent archaeological evidence and research in four languages Alfred s achievements have melted cynicism Gibbon called him the greatest of English kings Hume the greatest man in history Voltaire declared I know not whether there has ever been a man on earth worthier of posterity s respect When his kingdom was reduced to thirty acres he fought back with such courage and genius that he expelled the Viking invaders and made possible the saving of Western civilization His list of accomplishments is amazing transcendent diplomat Europe s greatest naval designer notable architect law giver founder of the oldest literary tradition in the Occident originator of a system of public education and producer of translations that have endured a thousand years The author s research led him to the conclusion that the ninth century English kin was the superior of Charlemagne in almost every respect and indeed was one of the greatest geniuses Western civilization has ever produced Alfred s courage faith and temperance are enduring examples for modern men The Golden Dragon Alf J. Mapp, Jr., 1990-12-31 A woodcutter s son must pluck three feathers from a dragon to win the hand of his love Old

English Prose Paul E. Szarmach, 2019-08-15 With the decline of formalism and its predilection for Old English poetry Old English prose is leaving the periphery and moving into the center of literary and cultural discussion The extensive corpus of Old English prose lends many texts of various kinds to the current debates over literary theory and its multiple manifestations The purpose of this collection is to assist the growing interest in Old English prose by providing essays that help establish the foundations for considered study and offer models and examples of special studies Both retrospective and current in its examples this collection can serve as a first book for an introduction to study particularly suitable for courses that seek to entertain such issues as authorship texts and textuality source criticism genre and forms of historical criticism as a significant part of a broad cultural teaching and research plan Race and Ethnicity in Anglo-Saxon Literature Stephen

Stephen Harris, 2004-06-01 What makes English literature English This question inspires Stephen Harris s wide ranging study of Old English literature From Bede in the eighth century to Geoffrey of Monmouth in the twelfth Harris explores the intersections of race and literature before the rise of imagined communities Harris examines possible configurations of communities illustrating dominant literary metaphors of race from Old English to its nineteenth century critical reception Literary voices in the England of Bede understood the limits of community primarily as racial or tribal in keeping with the perceived divine division of peoples after their languages and the extension of Christianity to Bede s Germanic neighbours was effected in part through metaphors of family and race Harris demonstrates how King Alfred adapted Bede in the ninth century how both exerted an effect on Archbishop Wulfstan in the eleventh and how Old English poetry speaks to images of race
