Reading the Male Gaze in Literature and Culture James D. Bloom,2017-10-06 This book examines the phenomenon of the male gaze a concept which has spread beyond academia and become a staple of cultural conversations across disciplinary boundaries Male gazing has typically been disparaged and even stigmatized as a reflection of misogyny and an instrument of objectification often justifiably so But as this book argues and illustrates male gazing can also be understood as an illuminating intellectually engaging aesthetically compelling and even politically progressive practice This study recounts how the author s own coming of an age as a gazer became the basis for his long career teaching and writing about American fiction and poetry and poetry canonical and contemporary as well as about film painting TV and rock and roll It includes closely reasoned analyses of work by James Baldwin Rembrandt Willa Cather Philip Roth Henry James Charles Chesnutt Bob Dylan Robert Stone Tim O Brien Edith Wharton Theodore Dreiser Frank O Hara Italo Calvino John Schlesinger as well such cultural phenomena as the British Invasion of the 1960s the Judgment of Paris in Greek mythology the technology of seeing kaleidoscopes microscopes telescopes and the concept of objectification itself

Women Writing the Neo-Victorian Novel Kathleen Renk,2020-07-27 Women Writing the Neo Victorian Novel Erotic Victorians focuses on the work of British Irish and Commonwealth women writers such as A S Byatt Emma Donoghue Sarah Waters Helen Humphreys Margaret Atwood and Ahdaf Soueif among others and their attempts to re envision the erotic Kathleen Renk argues that women writers of the neo Victorian novel are far more philosophical in their approach to representing the erotic than male writers and draw more heavily on Victorian conventions that would proscribe the graphic depiction of sexual acts thus leaving more to the reader s imagination This book addresses the following questions Why are women writers drawn to the neo Victorian genre and what does this reveal about the state of contemporary feminism How do classical and contemporary forms of the erotic play into the ways in which women writers address the Victorian woman question How exactly is the erotic used to underscore women s creative potential

The novels of Henry Fielding ... complete in one volume. To which is prefixed, a memoir of the life of the author [by sir W. Scott]. Henry Fielding,1821 Witnessing Sadism in Texts of the American South Claire Raymond,2019-10-28 Looking at works by Carrie Mae Weems Toni Morrison Emily Dickinson Flannery O Connor Dorothy Allison Carson McCullers and Zora Neale Hurston Claire Raymond uncovers a pattern of femininity constructed around representations of sadistic violence in American women s literature and photography from the late nineteenth and twentieth centuries Dickinson's poetry is read through its relationship to the Southern Agrarian critics who championed her work. While the representations of violence found in Carrie Mae Weems's installation From Here I Saw What Happened and I Cried, Morrison's Beloved, Dickinson's O'Connor's A View of the Woods and A Good Man Is Hard to Find, Allison's Bastard Out of Carolina, McCullers' Ballad of the Sad Caf and Hurston's Mules and Men are diverse in terms of artistic presentation, all allude to or are set in the antebellum and Jim Crow South. In addition, all involve feminine characters whose subjectivity is shaped by the practice of seeing acts of violence inflicted where there can be no effective resistance. While not proposing an equivalence between representing violence in visual images and written text, Raymond does suggest that visual images of violence can be interpreted in context with written evocations of violent imagery. Invoking sadism in its ethical sense of violence enacted on a victim for whom self defense and recourse of any kind are impossible, Raymond's study is ultimately an exploration of the idea that a femininity constructed by the positioning of feminine characters as witnesses to sadistic acts is a phenomenon distinctly of the American South that is linked to the culture's history of racism.
