Systems Management of Operations Martin K. Starr, 1981 Networks and Systems Management Iosif G. Ghetie, 2012-12-06 The deployment of communications networks and distributed computing systems requires the use of open standards based integrated management systems During the last five years the overall industry effort to develop enhance and integrate management systems has crystallized in the concept of management platforms Management platforms are software systems which provide open multi vendor multiprotocol distributed management services They allow multiple management applications to run over core platform services which constitute the essential part of the management platform framework This book provides a comprehensive analysis of the features and technical characteristics of distributed management platforms by examining both qualitative and quantitative management capabilities required by each management platform service The analysis covers the management platform run time environment the operational aspects of using management platforms the development environment which consists of software toolkits that are used to build management applications the implementation environment which deals with testing interoperability aspects of using management platforms and of course the distributed applications services which platforms make available to management applications Finally the analysis covers the capabilities of several management applications either generic or specific to devices or resources which run on top of management platforms Operations Management Martin Kenneth Starr,1996

Operations and Business Systems Management ,2005 Information and Communications Technology and Operational Efficiency in Supermarkets in Nairobi Josephat Mwebi,2018-09-26 Thesis M A from the year 2013 in the subject Business economics Miscellaneous grade 87% 1st University of Nairobi Management Science course Operations Management language English abstract The aim of this research was to find out the role of various ICT applications in the improvement of operational efficiency for supermarkets in Nairobi It aimed to answer the questions of ICT applications that are adopted by supermarkets in Nairobi and the relationship between the level of adoption of these applications and operational efficiency that was attained A sample of 58 supermarkets was chosen from the list of 110 supermarkets to which structured questionnaires were issued by drop and pick method The forty two questionnaires were duly filled and returned This constitutes 72 4% response which according to Stacks 2011 was adequate for use in analysing and presenting findings for the identified research objectives The findings indicated that applications that were simple and cheap to install and implement such as CCTV cameras electronic point of sale systems and bar code readers were most prevalent while advanced and relatively expensive ICT applications such as ecommerce supply chain systems and enterprise resource systems were least used The size of supermarkets also determined ICT equipment that were used Coefficient of correlation of 0 52 was obtained from the regression analysis that measured the strength of the relationship between dependent and independent variables The relationship was direct meaning that supermarkets with largest extent of ICT application in their premises had the highest operational efficiency It was recommended that supermarket owners acquaint themselves with ICT applications that are available in the market and evaluate those that are suitable for their needs Supermarkets that had a wide array of application in their premises had high operational efficiency It is therefore necessary that they use all available ICT applications depending on their needs Given that some ICT applications were expensive to buy and implement it was suggested that developers make applications that are suitable for local needs with regard to supermarkets The Transportation System Management Plan for Northeastern Illinois Chicago Area Transportation Study,1978 Essential Guide to Operations Management David Bamford,Paul Forrester,2010-08-30 This book is a novel treatment of Operations Management It takes a fresh insight to this increasingly important topic exploring fundamental principles equally applicable to service and manufacturing situations The book adapts a strategic stance by providing a framework for effective decision making and is aimed at practising managers who need to design working processes manage change and make decisions within a strategic framework The framework and supporting case vignettes allow the practitioner to grasp essential concepts quickly in a range of different operational contexts Bamford and Forrester have done an excellent job in creating a concise salient and appealing approach they have captured the essential elements of designing processes products and work organizations exploring approaches to operations planning and control managing change through effective project management and technology transfer and then managing quality and improvement strategies Professor Rob Handfield Professor of Supply Chain Management North Carolina State University USA This is an excellent concise text that introduces students to all of the key areas it's an invaluable aid for students in understanding all of the major aspects of operations and their importance to the success of businesses Professor Steve Brown Professor of Management University of Exeter Business School University of Exeter UK For today's or tomorrow's business leaders this text has well structured invaluable content ready for immediate adoption Follow the guide put it into practice and the rewards will follow Mr Vernon Barker Managing Director First TransPennine Express First Group Plc UK This book combines technical theory book smarts with real life experience street smarts in a flowing read Mr Stephen Oliver Vice President Marketing Sales Vicor Corporation Boston USA
