Mastery Mathematics for Primary Teachers Robert Newell, 2023-04-26 This book examines how mathematical mastery influenced by East Asian teaching approaches can be developed in UK schools to enhance teaching and to deepen children's mathematical knowledge. It gives guidance on using physical resources to demonstrate key concepts, extended examples on how to teach different curriculum topics and how to plan for small step progression. It argues that effective mastery teaching requires careful and knowledgeable support for primary teachers who may not yet be maths specialists. New to this second edition: New chapter on variation theory and practice. Updated case studies exploring how mastery teaching has evolved. Updated review of current mastery resources available to UK teachers. Robert Newell is a lecturer at the UCL Institute of Education, London.

Making Every Maths Lesson Count Emma McCrea, 2019-05-01 In Making Every Maths Lesson Count, six principles to support great maths teaching are shared by experienced maths teacher and lecturer Emma McCrea. She takes away the guesswork as she sums up the key components of effective maths teaching. Maths classrooms are incredibly complex places. At any given time, the factors influencing the effectiveness of your teaching are boundless, and this can lead to relying on intuition as to what might work best. This book aims to signpost a route through this complexity. Writing in the practical, engaging style of the award-winning Making Every Lesson Count, Emma McCrea helps teachers to move beyond trial and error by sharing evidence-informed tips and suggestions on how they can nudge the impact of their teaching in the right direction. Making Every Maths Lesson Count is underpinned by six pedagogical principles: challenge, explanation, modelling, practice, feedback, and questioning. It presents 52 high-impact strategies designed to streamline teacher workload and ramp up the level of challenge in the maths classroom. The book draws out the key findings from the latest research on memory, learning, and motivation, and each chapter features numerous worked examples to demonstrate the theory in action, together with a concluding series of questions that will help maths practitioners relate the content to their own classroom practice. Furthermore, Emma's writing offers clarity around the language of maths teaching and learning, and also delves into the finer points of how to identify and address any misconceptions that students may hold. Written for new and experienced practitioners alike, this gimmick-free guide provides sensible solutions to perennial problems and inspires a rich, challenging, and evidence-based approach to the teaching of maths. Suitable for maths teachers of students aged 11 to 18 years and for primary school maths specialists.

Maths Alive! Edith Biggs, Kathleen Shaw, 1995 By using this text, teachers will acquire the necessary background for understanding the mathematics which is new to most primary schools: algebra, geometry, and data handling, including probability.

National Curriculum Assessment Richard A. Daugherty, 1995 Daugherty, education U of Wales Aberystwyth, chronicles the evolution of National Curriculum Assessment in England and Wales from the Task Group on Assessment and Testing through the early experience of implementation. He explains aspects of the policy, such as Standard Assessment Tests, teacher assessment league tables, and key stage 4, and comments on public and professional reactions to government policy decisions concluding that the Dearing Review is too deeply flawed to be a secure base for the future
