The First Buber Youthful Zionist Writings Of Martin Buber

The First Buber Gilya Gerda Schmidt, 1999-08-01 As a college student Martin Buber was a leader in the early Zionist movement. During the period between 1898 and 1902 he published a series of Zionist writings that were clearly meant to be confrontational and challenge those who embraced traditional Judaism. These essays, poems, and speeches have been translated and collected here in this text. For Buber, Zionism was not primarily a political issue; it implied a reorientation of the entire being on overcoming of a Diaspora mentality, a catharsis, and a readiness to build in the land of Israel a new, just, free, and creative community.

Martin Buber's Dialogical Thought as a Philosophy of Action Asaf Ziderman, 2024-10-30 This book promotes a philosophical revival of Buber's dialogical thought by repositioning it as a philosophy of action, departing from a long-established consensus that narrowly viewed it as a post-Kantian epistemology. Based on careful analysis of his writings, the book's main thrust is to reconstruct Buber's argument that dialogue is the perfected form of action and a perfect action is necessarily dialogical. This reconstruction renders Buber's dialogical thought pertinent to contemporary analytic philosophy by situating it within central discussions in the field of philosophy of action.

Gender, Orientalism and the Jewish Nation Lynne M. Swarts, 2020-01-23 Ephraim Moses Lilien (1874-1925) was one of the most important Jewish artists of modern times. As a successful illustrator, photographer, painter, and printer, he became the first major Zionist artist. Surprisingly, there has been little in-depth scholarly research and analysis of Lilien's work available in English, making this book an important contribution to historical and art historical scholarship. Concentrating mainly on his illustrations for journals and books, Lynne Swarts acknowledges the importance of Lilien's groundbreaking male iconography in Zionist art but is the first to examine Lilien's complex and nuanced depiction of women, which comprised a major dimension of his work. Lilien's female images offer a compelling glimpse of an alternate, independent, and often sexually liberated modern Jewish woman, a portrayal that often eluded the Zionist imagination. Using an interdisciplinary approach to integrate intellectual and cultural history with issues of gender, Jewish history, and visual culture, Swarts also explores the important fin de siècle tensions between European and Oriental expressions of Jewish femininity. The work demonstrates that Lilien was not a minor figure in the European art scene but a major figure whose work needs re-reading in light of his cosmopolitan and national artistic genius.

Bruno Schulz and Galician Jewish Modernity Karen Underhill, 2024-06-25 In the 1930s, through the prose of Bruno Schulz (1892-1942), the Polish language became the linguistic raw material for a profound exploration of the modern Jewish experience. Rather than turning away from the language like many of his Galician Jewish colleagues who would choose to write in Yiddish, Schulz used the Polish language to explore his own and his generation's relationship to East European Jewish exegetical tradition and to deepen his reflection on golus or exile as a condition not only of the individual and of the Jewish community but of language itself and of matter. Drawing on new archival discoveries, this study explores Schulz's diasporic Jewish modernism as an example of the creative and also transient poetic forms that emerged on formerly Habsburg territory at the historical juncture between empire and nation state The Idea of Modern Jewish Culture Eliezer Schweid, 2008 The vast majority of intellectual religious and national developments in modern Judaism revolve around the central idea of Jewish culture This book is the first synoptic view of these developments that organizes and relates them from this vantage point The first Jewish modernization movements perceived culture as the defining trait of the outside alien social environment to which Jewry had to adapt To be cultured was to be modern European as opposed to medieval ghetto Jewish In short order however the Jewish religious legacy was redefined retrospectively as a historical culture with fateful consequences for the conception of Judaism as a humanly and not only divinely mandated regime The conception of Judaism as culture took two main forms an integrative vernacular Jewish culture that developed in tandem with the integration of Jews into the various nations of western central Europe and America and a national Hebrew culture which though open to the inputs of modern European society sought to develop a revitalized Jewish national identity that ultimately found expression in the revival of the Jewish homeland and the State of Israel Reclaiming Biblical Heroines Monika Czekanowska-Gutman, 2022-11-07

Although recently more studies have been devoted to the representations of Biblical heroines in modern European art less is known about the contribution to the portrayals of Biblical women by modern Jewish artists This monograph explores why and how heroines of the Scripture Judith Esther and the Shulamite received a particular meaning for acculturated Jewish artists originating from the Polish lands in the last decades of the nineteenth century and the first two decades of the twentieth century It convincingly proves that artworks by Maurycy Gottlieb Wilhem Wachtel Ephraim Moses Lilien Maurycy Minkowski Samuel Hirszenberg and Boris Schatz significantly differed from renderings of contemporary non Jewish artists adopting a Jewish perspective creating complex and psychological portrayals of the heroines inspired by Jewish literature and as well as by historical and cultural phenomena of Jewish revival and the cultural Zionism movement Homo Temporalis Nitzan Itzhak Lebovic, 2025-01-15

Homo Temporalis focuses on the importance of temporal concepts for four German Jewish thinkers who profoundly shaped twentieth century intellectual history Martin Buber Walter Benjamin Hannah Arendt and Paul Celan By analyzing the concept of time Nitzan Lebovic explores Buber s stress on the temporality of the dialogue between I and Thou Benjamin s now time and dialectics in standstill Arendt s understanding of democracy as natality or a permanent revolution and the breathturn that informs Celan s poetry Framing the reception of German Jewish thinking in the second half of the twentieth century as a parallel story to the rise of the modern humanities Homo Temporalis also highlights how these foundational temporal concepts illuminate the causes of the present crisis in the humanities and its disciplinary limitations in the age of biopolitics and the Anthropocene Jewish Historiography Between Past and Future Paul Mendes-Flohr, Rachel Livneh-Freudenthal, Guy Miron, 2019-07-22

From its modest beginnings in 1818 Berlin Wissenschaft des Judentums has burgeoned into a scholarly discipline pursued by a vast cadre of scholars Now constituting a global community these scholars continue to draw their inspiration from the determined pioneers of Wissenschaft des Judentums in nineteenth and twentieth Germany Beyond setting the highest standards of philological and historiographical research German Wissenschaft des Judentums had a seminal role in creating modern Jewish discourse in which cultural memory supplemented traditional Jewish learning The secular character of modern Jewish Studies initially pursued largely in German and subsequently in other vernacular languages e g French Dutch Italian modern Hebrew Russian greatly facilitated an exchange with non Jewish scholars and thereby encouraging mutual understanding and respect The present volume is based on papers delivered at a conference sponsored by the Leo Baeck Institute in Jerusalem by scholars from North American Europe and Israel The papers and attendant deliberations explored ramified historical and methodological issues Taken as a whole the volume represents a tribute to the two hundred year legacy of Wissenschaft des Judentums and its singular contribution to not only modern Jewish self understand but also to the unfolding of humanistic cultural discourse Jews in Eastern Europe

Katarzyna Kornacka-Sareło,Waldemar Szczerbiński,2016-01-14 The problem of being a stranger is present in every culture In this context the Jewish question is often discussed since the Jews have been present in other nations for centuries constituting the social and cultural minority and being almost always perceived as strangers This volume presents a detailed analysis of Jewish self perceptions and attitudes often very complex towards other societies and communities living in the same lands The contributors to this book explore the lengthy discussions between both the supporters and adversaries of assimilation within the Jewish environment and also between the assimilated Jews and non Jews which often further complicate this issue As the authors show here the methods of assimilation of eastern European Jews were not straightforward but were rather often rather complicated and rough Many Jewish people were trying to find the best solution to their own Jewish question and adapt themselves reasonably to the gentile environment and to the changing realities of the world in which they had to exist regardless of their will or in which they freely chose to live having made autonomic and personal decisions As such this volume explores Jewish assimilation issues from a wide and multifaceted perspective

Martin Buber's Biblical Hermeneutics Claire Emily Sufrin,2008 The Cambridge History of Jewish Philosophy Steven M. Nadler,Tamar Rudavsky,Martin Kavka,Zachary Braiterman,David Novak,2009 Provides a comprehensive overview of Jewish philosophy from the seventeenth century to the present day Israel Studies ,2008 Jewish Public Culture in the Late Russian Empire Jeffrey Veidlinger,2009 The flowering of a grassroots Jewish secular culture in the last years of the Russian Empire The Newsletter of the Fern & Manfred Steinfeld Program in Judaic Studies ,1994 The Emergence of Jewish Artists in Nineteenth-century Europe Richard I. Cohen,2001 The emancipation of Jews in Europe during the nineteenth century meant that for the first time they could participate in areas of secular life including established art academies that had previously been closed to them by legal restrictions Jewish artists took many complex routes to establish their careers Some such as Camille Pissaro managed to distinguish themselves without making any reference to their Jewish heritage in their art Others such as Simeon Solomon and Maurycy Gottlieb wrestled with their identities as well to produce images of Jewish experience The pogroms that began in the late nineteenth century brought home to Jews the problematic relationship of minority groups to majority cultures and artists such as Maurycy Minkowski and Samuel Hirszenberg confronted the horror of the deaths of thousands of Jews in powerful images of destruction and despair Comprehensively illustrated in color throughout Painting in Nineteenth Century Europe explores for the first time every aspect of the role of Jewish artists within nineteenth century European art Bibliografisch Repertorium Van de Wijsbegeerte ,2000

Index to Jewish Periodicals ,2000 An author and subject index to selected American Anglo Jewish journals of general and scholarly interests Women and Gender in Jewish Philosophy Hava Tirosh-Samuelson,2004 Proceedings of a conference held Feb 25 26 2001 at Arizona State University The Human Figure and Jewish Culture Eliane Strosberg,2010 Illustrated with more than one hundred full color reproductions of works by the artists under discussion The Human Figure and Jewish Culture is an essential addition to any library of art history or Judaica Μελεταισοφιας ,2002
