Portraits of

Influential Chinese Educators Ruth Hayhoe,2007-05-11 Portraits whether graphic or verbal have distinct purposes and values Through deliberate selection they seek to reveal and thereby to illuminate In their literary form selection of content and style ensures that they do not presume to achieve the status of fully fledged biographies Even so a carefully brush stroked multi layered and richly textured pen portrait is capable of revealing much about both character and circumstance And what it reveals is likely to be different from and far more profound than any insights permitted by other miniatures such as simple snapshots or polemical caricatures Professor Ruth Hayhoe has produced a whole gallery of valuable portraits in the present book For a book in the present series however a key question remains How and why may pen portraits of eleven influential educators from a single country and within roughly the same time frame contribute significantly to the literature of comparative education My own answer to this question is simple This particular gallery makes its important contribution in two main ways and for a number of good reasons The How part of the question clearly involves process especially methodological process A portrait typically involves both foreground and background features Some of the most effective portraits seem to encourage their observers to recognize interplay between foreground and background
