The Father Of British Airships:

The Father of British Airships Alec McKinty, 1972 British Airship Bases of the Twentieth Century Malcolm Fife, 2017-05-17 Numerous books have been written on airships but few concentrate on their bases and infrastructure to support their operations British Airship Bases of the Twentieth Century starts with documenting the primitive facilities from which the early machines flew in the years prior to the First World War The outbreak of the First World War resulted in airships being adopted for military purposes and bases were established across Britain Most of these were operated by the Royal Naval Air Service for the protection of shipping against U boats In the 1920s an attempt was made by the British Government to build airships for commercial transport The locations where these giants of the sky were constructed are described as well as the proposed overseas passenger terminals The latter part of this enthralling and detailed book chronicles the attempt to establish the airship as a means of transport to link together the far flung lands of the British Empire Reference is also made at attempts to revive the airship in the closing decade of the 20th century and the locations associated with them Illustrations 170 black and white photographs The father of British airships; A biogr. of E(rnest) T(hompson) Willows Alec MacKinty, 1972 Unmanned Systems of World Wars I and II H. R. Everett, 2015-11-06 The first comprehensive technical history of air land sea and underwater unmanned systems by a distinguished U S Navy roboticist Military drones have recently been hailed as a revolutionary new technology that will forever change the conduct of war And yet the United States and other countries have been deploying such unmanned military systems for more than a century Written by a renowned authority in the field this book documents the forgotten legacy of these pioneering efforts offering the first comprehensive historical and technical accounting of unmanned air land sea and underwater systems Focusing on examples introduced during the two world wars H R Everett meticulously traces their development from the mid nineteenth century to the early Cold War A pioneering Navy roboticist Everett not only describes these systems in detail but also reverse engineers the designs in order to explain how they operated in real world conditions of the time More than 500 illustrations photographs drawings and plans many of them never before published accompany the text Everett covers the evolution of early wire guided submersibles tracing the development of power propulsion communication and control radio controlled surface craft deployed by both Germany and Great Britain in World War I radio controlled submersibles radio controlled aircraft including the TDR 1 assault drone project in World War II which laid the groundwork for subsequent highly classified drone programs and remote controlled ground vehicles including the Wehrmacht's Goliath and Borgward demolition carriers Lighter Than Air Guy Warner, 2016-06-30 Neville Florian Usborne entered the Royal Navy as a cadet in 1897 In the years between him joining up and the outbreak of the First World War he engaged in a huge number of enterprises and endeavours Praise and respect garnered in accordance with his achievements all helped to establish his reputation in later years as an irreplaceable pioneer and a leading light of early British airship design His fertile imagination and enterprising spirit fused to form a dynamic personality able in wartime to draw up countless schemes in an effort to outwit the enemy His chief task during the Great War was to dream up new tactics and designs to combat the Zeppelin menace perceived as one of the most damaging threats of the entire conflict He was also deeply involved in the design of the very successful SS and Coastal Class airships indeed during 1915 he was actually appointed Inspector Commander of Airships at the Admiralty Unfortunately his illustrious career was destined to be cut short in 1916 when he was killed testing a prototype of one of his own designs This new biography seeks to shine a light on an overlooked pioneer of early aviation and it does so in entertaining and reverential style The importance of Usborne the pioneer is made plain as one of his contemporaries commented upon his death No one can talk of the early days of British airship design without mention of his name and work A personality was lost on that February day which was irreplaceable Jane's Pocket Book of Airships Arthur Frederick Daubeney Eveleigh-de Moleyns Baron Ventry, Arthur Frederick Daubeney Olav Eveleigh De Moleyns Baron Ventry, Eugène M.
