The Flame And The Arrow:

Jacques Tourneur Chris Fujiwara,2015-05-07 At least three of director Jacques Tourneur s films Cat People I Walked with a Zombie and The Leopard Man are recognized as horror classics Yet his contributions to these films are often minimized by scholars with most of the credit going to the films producer Val Lewton A detailed examination of the director s full body of work reveals that those elements most evident in the Tourneur Lewton collaborations the lack of monsters and the stylized use of suggested violence are equally apparent in Tourneur s films before and after his work with Lewton Mystery and sensuality were hallmarks of his style and he possessed a highly artistic visual and aural style This insightful critical study examines each of Tourneur s films as well as his extensive work on MGM shorts 1936-1942 and in television What emerges is evidence of a highly coherent directorial style that runs throughout Tourneur s works Fearing the Dark Edmund G. Bansak,2003-10-09 Cat People 1942 and I Walked with a Zombie 1943 established Val Lewton s hauntingly graceful style where suggestion was often used in place of explicit violence His stylish B thrillers were imitated by a generation of filmmakers such as Richard Wallace William Castle and even Walt Disney in his animated Adventures of Ichabod and Mr Toad 1949 Through interviews with many of Lewton s associates including his wife and son and extensive research his life and output are thoroughly examined

Music in Films on the Middle Ages John Haines,2013-10-30 This book explores the role of music in the some five hundred feature length films on the Middle Ages produced between the late 1890s and the present day Haines focuses on the tension in these films between the surviving evidence for medieval music and the idiomatic tradition of cinematic music The latter is taken broadly as any musical sound occurring in a film from the clang of a bell off screen to a minstrel singing his song Medieval film music must be considered in the broader historical context of pre cinematic medievalisms and of medievalist cinema s main development in the course of the twentieth century as an American appropriation of European culture The book treats six pervasive moments that define the genre of medieval film the church tower bell the trumpet fanfare or horn call the music of banquets and courts the singing minstrel performances of Gregorian chant and the music that accompanies horse riding knights with each chapter visiting representative films as case studies These six signal musical moments that create a fundamental visual aural core central to making a film feel medieval to modern audiences originate in medievalist works predating cinema by some three centuries
