The Politics of Skin Tone Nicole D. Yadon, 2025-05-05 A nuanced examination of the salience of skin tone within African American politics Research shows that skin tone is associated with significant differences in life experiences On average African Americans with darker skin earn lower wages suffer worse health outcomes and endure more negative criminal justice experiences than lighter skinned African Americans Nicole D Yadon conceptualizes skin tone as one facet of the multidimensional construct of race that powerfully influences racialized experiences which in turn can influence political identities and attitudes Drawing on evidence from one hundred in depth interviews multiple surveys and a survey experiment The Politics of Skin Tone investigates the political associations of skin tone Yadon finds that skin tone correlates with political attitudes particularly on issues where color based disparities are especially pronounced such as criminal justice Moreover a sizable number of African Americans adopt a skin tone based identity In an era of shifting racial boundaries and growing color based discrimination The Politics of Skin Tone examines the implications for both scholars and policymakers
