Crazy Like Us Ethan Watters,2011-03-24 It is well known that US culture is a dominant force and a world wide phenomenon But it is possible that its most troubling export has yet to be accounted for America has been the world leader in generating new mental health treatments and modern theories it exports psychopharmaceuticals and categorises disorders thereby defining mental illness and health The outcome of these efforts is just now coming to light it turns out that the US has not only been changing the way the world talks about and treats mental illness it has been changing the mental illnesses themselves Watters travels from China to Tanzania to bring home the unsettling conclusion that the virus is the US as Americanized ways of treating mental illnesses are introduced they are in fact spreading the diseases and shaping if not creating the mental illnesses of our time

Stars Of The Ratland S.A. Abakwue,2010-08-13 Once upon a very distant time a big Rat became the King in the house of Cats He would walk on his four tiny legs around the house barking orders to all the timid Cats all in their own house He was the Lord their Emperor and even the very King they knew And there was none in the big house like him One day however Lord Lizard came from the bush on a state visit He had a golden cap on his head And his hairless skin was wrapped in pure gold And even the very claws of his four feet were all painted and coated with the very best of purified liquid gold

TRUST ME, I'M THE PATIENT Clean Language, Metaphor, and the New Psychology of Change Philip Harland,2012-07-01 Superb Substantial Entertaining Informative An essential read for anyone who finds themself counseling or working with others Aimed mainly at psychotherapy and coaching but readily translates into lessons for business education and everyday use Trust Me I m The Patient takes you step by step through a process that lends itself to the most profound therapeutic transformation and yet can be used informally at home at work or in the queue for the bus Science psychology philosophy and a vibrating peach are all part of the story in this far reaching but readily accessible guide to the practice of Clean Language questioning a knowledge of which will enable you to enter another person s world almost unnoticed and once there to tread very very lightly And what will happen as a result is that the person you facilitate will get to know and change and heal themself Philip Harland takes us on a clear and compelling journey into the nuances of words questions and sentence structure and explains why small changes make such a big difference to both listener and speaker He guides us through the minefields of unclean practice and shows us how seductive and wasteful our projections and assumptions can be If you have ever wanted an easier ride with clients and colleagues family and friends this book tells you how to let go the reins and facilitate them to take up their own A fabulous addition to Clean resources and one that most closely matches the way the creator of Clean Language the late David Grove would explain himself I defy anyone to read this book and not clean up their language Caitlin Walker educationalist author of Clean Language and Systemic Modelling

Masking Terror Alex Argenti-Pullen,2013-07-17 In Sri Lanka staggering numbers of young men were killed fighting in the armed forces against Tamil separatists The war became one of attrition year after year waves of young foot soldiers were sent to almost certain death in a war so bloody that the very names of the most famous battle scenes still fill people with horror Alex Argenti Pillen describes the social fabric of a rural community that has become a breeding ground and reservoir of soldiers for the Sri Lankan nation state arguing that this reservoir has been created on the basis of a culture of poverty and terror Focusing on the involvement of the pseudonymous village of Udahenagama in the atrocities of the civil war of the late 1980s and the interethnic war against the Tamil guerrillas Masking Terror describes the response of women in the rural slums of southern Sri Lanka to the further spread of violence To reconstruct the violent backgrounds of these soldiers she presents the stories of their mothers sisters wives and grandmothers providing a perspective on the conflict between Sinhalese and Tamil populations not found elsewhere In addition to interpreting the impact of high levels of violence on a small community Argenti Pillen questions the effects of trauma counseling services brought by the international humanitarian community into war torn non Western cultural contexts Her study shows how Euro American methods for dealing with traumatized survivors poses a threat to the culture specific methods local women use to contain violence Masking Terror provides a sobering introduction to the difficulties and methodological problems field researchers social scientists human rights activists and mental health workers face in working with victims and perpetrators of ethnic and political violence and large scale civil war The narratives of the women from Udahenagama provide necessary insight into how survivors of wartime atrocities reconstruct their communicative worlds and disrupt the cycle of violence in ways that may be foreign to Euro American professionals
