Terror Island:

Journeys into Terror Cynthia J. Miller, A. Bowdoin Van Riper, 2023-05-15 Since ancient times explorers and adventurers have captured popular imagination with their frightening narratives of travels gone wrong. Usually these stories heavily feature the exotic or unknown and can transform any journey into a nightmare. Stories of such horrific happenings have a long and rich history that stretches from folktales to contemporary media narratives. This work presents eighteen essays that explore the ways in which these texts reflect and shape our fear and fascination surrounding travel, posing new questions about the geographies of evil and how our notions of terrible places and their inhabitants change over time. The volume's five thematic sections offer new insights into how power, privilege, uncanny landscapes, misbegotten quests, hellish commutes, and deadly vacations can turn our travels into terror.

American Silent Horror, Science Fiction and Fantasy Feature Films, 1913-1929 John T. Soister, Henry Nicolella, Steve Joyce, 2014-01-10 During the Silent Era when most films dealt with dramatic or comedic takes on the boy meets girl, boy loses girl theme, other motion pictures dared to tackle such topics as rejuvenation, revivication, mesmerism, the supernatural, and the grotesque. A Daughter of the Gods (1916), The Phantom of the Opera (1925), The Magician (1926), and Seven Footprints to Satan (1929) were among the unusual and startling films containing story elements that went far beyond the realm of highly unlikely. Using surviving documentation and their combined expertise, the authors catalog and discuss these departures from the norm in this encyclopedic guide to American horror, science fiction, and fantasy in the years from 1913 through 1929.
