raise in favor of existing institutions a mass of prejudices and prepossessions which are the accompaniment of every epoch if those prejudices prove nothing in themselves they prove at least the great difficulty of inducing men to think upon matters out of their accustomed spheres of reflection which is a most serious obstacle to the successful promulgation of new views and principles The age is not yet prepared for the discussion of Social questions this is proved by the fact that our most enlightened men are seeking blindly in paltry political measures and administrative reforms for the means of doing away with the load of social evil and misery which oppress mankind About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works
