Social Structure And Rural Development In The Third World:

Social Structure and Rural Development in the Third World Guy Berger,1992-10-22 An analysis of the relationship between Third World farmers and the international economy Rural Development in South Korea William W. Boyer,1991 After considering the problem of decentralizing rural development in South Korea generally the authors analyze the proliferation period from 1970 to 1979 of Seemaul Undong South Korea s so called New Community Movement which was an attempt to achieve an integrated rural development program The final chapter suggests directions for South Korea and draws implications for development elsewhere Peasant Organisations and the Democratisation Process in Africa Mahmoud Ben Romdhane,Sam Moyo,2002 The book provides a collection of 13 papers on rural peasant organisations in Nigeria Cameroon Cape Verde Kenya Senegal Sudan Tunisia and Zimbabwe Participation, Development and Social Structure Bazlul M. Karim,1994-04-26 M Bazlul Karim surveys the problems and prospects of participatory development involving the primarily rural poor in developing countries The case study focuses exclusively on Bangladesh with considerable emphasis on theoretical and comparative analysis as well The author uses Weberian notion of social stratification as the theoretical guidance in examining the nature of inequalities in wealth status and power These stratification variables are examined in depth in regard to various types of participation participation in development programs social participation and political participation Technology and Rural Women Iftikhar Ahmed,2022-08-30 First published in 1985 Technology and Rural Women synthesizes the fragmented empirical evidence and the wide range of theoretical approaches on the effects of modernisation on women in the developing world Using a multi disciplinary methodology empirical and sectoral overviews and country case studies it draws together the literature to clarify the issues and the policies The book begins with a conceptual overview and analyses the applicability of traditional theories of technological change and impact on gender based distributional questions It proceeds to compare the African and Asian experience examines the African situation regionally and then as a set of four country case studies The authors find that the imperfections of rural factor markets have contributed to women s concentration in labour intensive sectors marked by low productivity and low returns Biases in the agrarian structure and the extension services are largely responsible for the Institutionalisation of discrimination against women Finally the volume identifies the social economic and technical constraints to the diffusion of technologies relevant to rural women s tasks In the final chapter the book s analysis is further refined and extended so that its conclusions to both theory and policy making are clearly brought out and areas of future research identified This book is an essential read for students and scholars of labour economics women s studies and economics in general □□□□□□□□,1993 African Families in a Global Context Göran Therborn,2004 The family is one of the most important institutions of African societies Where is it going today How is it affected by global processes cultural and political as well as economic How does it compare with family developments in other parts of the world These are questions which this book addresses The contributors deal with the African family in a comparative global context focusing on patriarchy sexuality and marriage and fertility biological and social reproduction in Ghana under conditions of globalization and structural adjustment Nigerian marriage relations under the impact of current conditions and family changes in the North Britain from a family perspective of the South South Africa Rural Extension, Education and Training Abstracts ,1982 Adult Education Gordon G.
