Social Theory and Economic Change Tom Burns, Professor S B Saul, S. B. Saul, 2013-10-11 Tavistock Press was established as a co-operative venture between the Tavistock Institute and Routledge Kegan Paul RKP in the 1950s to produce a series of major contributions across the social sciences. This volume is part of a 2001 reissue of a selection of those important works which have since gone out of print or are difficult to locate. Published by Routledge 112 volumes in total are being brought together under the name The International Behavioural and Social Sciences Library Classics from the Tavistock Press. Reproduced here in facsimile this volume was originally published in 1967 and is available individually. The collection is also available in a number of themed mini sets of between 5 and 13 volumes or as a complete collection.

Social Theory and Economic Change University of Edinburgh. Faculty of Social Sciences, 1961      Social Theory and Economic Change Michael Argyle, 1972      Social Theory and Economic Change Tom Burns, S. B. Saul, 1965      Economics, Culture and Development Eiman O. Zein-Elabdin, 2017-09-19 This book examines the treatment of culture and development in the discipline of economics thereby filling a conspicuous gap in current literature. Economics has come a long way to join the cultural turn that has swept the humanities and social sciences in the last half century. This volume identifies some of the issues that major philosophies of economics must address to better grasp the cultural complexity of contemporary economies. This book is an extensive survey of the place of culture and development in four theoretical economic perspectives. Neoclassical, Marxian, Institutional and Feminist. Organized in nine chapters with three appendices and a compendium of over 50 interpretations of culture by economists this book covers vast grounds from classical political economy to contemporary economic thought. The literatures reviewed include original and new institutionalism, cultural economics, postmodern Marxism, economic feminism and the current culture and development discourse on subjects such as economic growth in East Asia, businesswomen entrepreneurs in West Africa and comparative development in different parts of Europe. Zein Elabdin carries the project further by borrowing some of the insights from postcolonial theory to call for a more profound rethinking of the place of culture and of currently devalued cultures in economic theory. This book is of great interest for those who study Economic development, International relations, feminist economics and Economic geography.

Economics and the Social Sciences Stavros Ioannides, Klaus Nielsen, 2007-01-01 This book is based on the premise that mainstream economics has become excessively specialized and formalized entering a state of de facto withdrawal from the study of the economy in favour of exercises in applied mathematics. The editors believe that there is much scope for synergies by engaging in an encounter with economics and the other social sciences. The chapters in this book offer important new contributions to such a development. A select group of highly regarded contributors illustrate the potentially enlightening relationship between economics and a wide range of social science disciplines. In addition some important concepts for economic analysis for example the notion of routines of social capital and of flexibility are explored from the vantage point of several social sciences Postgraduate students in most social science disciplines and in economic sociology will find much to interest them in this book as will students of psychology and economics Social theory and economic change, ed. by t. burns & s. saul ,1967 Social Theory John Bascom,1895 Paradigms in Economic Development Rajani Kannepalli Kanth,1994-02-08 Presents an introduction to East Asian politics This book uses a thematic approach to describe the political development of China Japan and Koreas since the mid nineteenth century and analyzes the social cultural political and economic features of each country The Cambridge Economic History of Europe Sir John Harold Clapham,Eileen Power,Michael Moissey Postan,Edwin Ernest Rich,Edward Miller,Charles Wilson,H.
