Dewolf, 1989 Strategic Defenses Office of the Technology Assessment, 2014-07-14 To contribute to the worldwide debate on President Reagan's Strategic Defense Initiative here are two important studies Ballistic Missile Defense Technologies and Anti Satellite Weapons Countermeasures and Arms Control Originally published in 1986 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905

Arms Control and Strategic Stability University of Virginia. Center for Law and National Security. Seminar, 1986-07-30 In this collection leading arms control experts focus on the impact of new weapons technology the START and INF negotiations treaty verification and compliance and confidence building and risk reduction measures Co published with the Center for Law and National Security University of Virginia Reykjavik and Beyond National Academy of Sciences, Policy and Global Affairs, Office of International Affairs, Committee on International Security and Arms Control, 1988-02-01 No more important issue faces us today than the future success of efforts to manage and control nuclear arsenals Reykjavik and Beyond represents the careful consideration of this subject by a group of experts deeply involved in arms control The authors consider what changes in force structures strategic thought and political relations would be necessary to make possible large reductions in the superpowers nuclear arsenals They also examine how very deep cuts would affect other aspects of the military balance and the political and international order more broadly

Strategy and Arms Control Thomas C. Schelling, Morton H. Halperin, 1985 This benchmark study in the field of national security and weapons control was first published in 1961 Republished with a new preface providing the perspectives of 1985 it focuses on the world's military environment and analyzes how that environment may or may not be improved through political arms control efforts The authors begin with a framework for understanding security defense and arms control relationships They also provide a framework for evaluating arms control proposals and for determining whether these proposals are in the security interests of the United States ISBN 0 08 032391 X 14 95 ISBN 0 08 032390 1 pbk 9 95 The Strategic Defense Initiative Ralph L. Dietl, 2018-08-15 The Nuclear and Space Talks revolutionized arms control The Cold War endgame commenced with the umbrella negotiations that linked START and INF negotiations to a regulation on the weaponization of space This volume reveals a US grand strategy to replace deterrence with a collective security order An entente of the superpowers was needed to transform bipolarity The US planned the replacement of mutually assured destruction by mutually assured security A global astrodome was to protect a nuclear disarmed world The Franco German special relationship in European affairs had to be amended by a US SU special relationship to replace classic bloc politics The Reagan Administration planned a global zero agenda a joint development of a global protective system and a creation of a Common House of Europe In brief the superpowers prepared the velvet revolution that eliminated the Cold War structures Neither containment nor convergence offers a valid explanation of the Cold War endgame Co creation is the key to decipher the end of the Cold War NATO Europe challenged the transformation of bipolarity The European NWS resisted to a multilateralization of strategic arms control In Europe the classic Cold War thinking survived the fall of the Iron Curtain European conservatism contributed to the geopolitical catastrophe of the first order the downfall of the Soviet Union The Reagan Administration developed a Grand Strategy to end the Cold War The US SU co creation of an astrodome was meant to ease a global zero agenda A global collective security structure under the United Nations was to replace deterrence The superpower project collapsed due to the penetration of US decision making by NATO Allies The European NWS totally objected to a multilateralization of strategic arms control to preserve their relative position in the international system

Arms Control Update ,1987      Strategic Power and National Security J. I. Coffey,2010-11-23 In this closely reasoned and lucid analysis an important thinker on American strategy surveys weapons technology and its military and political implications for the 1970s J I Coffey refutes the argument that American national security requires superior strategic offensive forces or extensive air and missile defenses In so doing he assesses in simple terms the various factors involved in this complex and difficult subject While many books on strategy deal only with a single area or a particular weapons system this work synthesizes technical and non technical considerations across the whole range of national security issues affected by strategic power war fighting deterrence Communist behavior alliance relationships nuclear proliferation and arms control Its orderly and authoritative marshaling of tabulated data its citations from Department of Defense documents and congressional hearings and its classifications of the alternative options which strategy makers can now pursue are all invaluable to both the student of national security and the professional strategist      The Reagan Strategic Defense Initiative Sidney David Drell,Philip J. Farley,David Holloway,1985      Ballistic missile defense technologies. ,1985      How to Think about Arms Control, Disarmament, and Defense Christopher Lamb,1988      New Technologies, Defense Policy, and Arms Control Kosta Tsipis,1989      Unresolved Issues in Arms Control (W. Alton Jones Foundation Series on Arms Control Vol 8) Kenneth W. Thompson,1988-09-29 This multi authored volume by scientists and strategic thinkers presents a broad spectrum of American thought and opinion on arms control Particularly on the highly controversial issue of the Strategic Defense Initiative their thinking mirrors the diverse conclusions of the citizenry and the public The focus of this volume is on unresolved issues and problems such as SDI but also antisatellite weapons in space verification and compliance and nuclear terrorism Contributors Dr Edward Teller General James A Abrahamson Dr John Kogut Townsend Hoopes Dr Paul Stares Richard Scribner and Dr Paul Leventhal      Missile Defenses and Western European Security Robert M.

Soofer, 1988-11-22 Missile Defenses and Western European Security is an important contribution to the current debate on how new weapons initiatives will affect prospects for world peace. Soofer generously sprinkles the book with relevant quotes from high ranking NATO officials, respected academicians and military policy experts, thus enhancing the reader's understanding of the subject.

Friday Review of Defense Literature The NATO alliance has come under increasing strain since President Reagan's announcement of plans for the strategic defense initiative (SDI) in March 1983. This study examines the logic underlying Western European reactions to SDI and assesses the validity of European anxieties about missile defenses. Systematically analyzing the positions of France, Britain and West Germany on the full spectrum of NATO defense issues, the author attempts to determine whether strategic and tactical missile defenses can in fact contribute to U.S. and Western security. In his introduction, the author traces the history of NATO's doubts concerning the strategic nuclear guarantee, which were frequently expressed after the Soviets' first successful missile launches in the late 1950s. He next looks at Western European reactions to the SDI announcement and NATO's strategic thinking on deterrence and escalation. He discusses the relation between arms control considerations and the strategic defense initiative, focusing on NATO fears that SDI would lead to the abrogation of the 1972 ABM Treaty and with it, the end of the arms control process. Turning to antitactical missile defense, Soofer argues that despite political opposition, there exists a substantial strategic rationale for missile defenses deployed in Western Europe. Offering clarification and new perspectives on many complex defense issues, Missile Defenses and Western European Security will be an important contribution to the current debate on how new weapons initiatives will affect prospects for world peace. This timely book is for specialists, students and academics in the fields of strategic studies, peace studies, arms control, diplomacy and international relations.
