The Slaves' Economy Ira Berlin, Philip D. Morgan, 1991      The Slaves' Economy Ira Berlin, Philip D. Morgan, 2016-01-20

Slaves achieved a degree of economic independence producing food tending cash crops raising livestock manufacturing furnished goods marketing their own products consuming and saving the proceeds and bequeathing property to their descendants The editors of this volume contend that the legacy of slavery cannot be understood without a full appreciation of the slaves economy      The Slavery Reader Gad J. Heuman, James Walvin, 2003 Brings together the most recent and essential writings on slavery Spanning almost five centuries the late fifteenth until the mid nineteenth the articles trace the range and impact of slavery on the modern western world      Slavery and American Economic Development Gavin Wright, 2006-10-01 Slavery and American Economic Development is a small book with a big interpretative punch It is one of those rare books about a familiar subject that manages to seem fresh and new Charles B Dew Journal of Interdisciplinary History A stunning reinterpretation of southern economic history and what is perhaps the most important book in the field since Time on the Cross I frequently found myself forced to rethink long held positions Russell R Menard Civil War History Through an analysis of slavery as an economic institution Gavin Wright presents an innovative look at the economic divergence between North and South in the antebellum era He draws a distinction between slavery as a form of work organization the aspect that has dominated historical debates and slavery as a set of property rights Slave based commerce remained central to the eighteenth century rise of the Atlantic economy not because slave plantations were superior as a method of organizing production but because slaves could be put to work on sugar plantations that could not have attracted free labor on economically viable terms Gavin Wright is William Robertson Coe Professor in American Economic History at Stanford University and the author of The Political Economy of the Cotton South and Old South New South Revolutions in the Southern Economy since the Civil War winner of the Frank L and Harriet C Owsley Award of the Southern Historical Association He has served as president of the Economic History Association and the Agricultural History Society      The African American Experience Arvarh E. Strickland, Robert E. Weems Jr., 2000-11-30 Compared to the early decades of the 20th century when scholarly writing on African Americans was limited to a few titles on slavery Reconstruction and African American migration the last thirty years have witnessed an explosion of works on the African American experience With the Civil Rights and Black Power movements of the 1960s came an increasing demand for the study and teaching of African American history followed by the publication of increasing numbers of titles on African American life and history This volume provides a comprehensive bibliographical and analytical guide to this growing body of literature as well as an analysis of how the study of African Americans has changed      Encyclopedia of African American Business History Juliet E. K. Walker, 1999-11-30 Black business activity has been sustained in America for almost four centuries From the marketing and trading activities of African slaves in Colonial America to the rise of 20th century black corporate America African American participation in self employed economic activities has been a persistent theme in the black experience Yet unlike other topics in African American history the study of black business has been limited General reference sources on the black experience with their emphasis on social cultural and political life provide little information on topics related to the history of black business This invaluable encyclopedia is the only reference source providing information on the broad range of topics that illuminate black business history Providing readily accessible information on the black business experience the encyclopedia provides an overview of black business activities and underscores the existence of a historic tradition of black American business participation Entries range from biographies of black business people to overview surveys of business activities from the 1600s to the 1990s including slave and free black business activities and the Black Wallstreet to coverage of black women s business activities and discussions of such African American specific industries as catering funeral enterprises insurance and hair care and cosmetic products Also there are entries on blacks in the automotive parts industry black investment banks black companies listed on the stock market blacks and corporate America civil rights and black business and black athletes and business activities

Matson, 2006-01-01 In recent years scholars in a number of disciplines have focused their attention on understanding the early American economy The result has been an outpouring of scholarship some of it dramatically revising older methodologies and findings and some of it charting entirely new territory new subjects new places and new arenas of study that might not have been considered economic in the past The Economy of Early America enters this resurgent discussion of the early American economy by showcasing the work of leading scholars who represent a spectrum of historiographical and methodological viewpoints Contributors include David Hancock Russell Menard Lorena Walsh Christopher Tomlins David Waldstreicher Terry Bouton Brooke Hunter Daniel Dupre John Majewski Donna Rilling and Seth Rockman as well as Cathy Matson to the material The Abolition of Slavery in Brazil David Baronov, 2000-06-30 The persistence of a raced based division of labor has been a compelling reality in all former slave societies in the Americas One can trace this to nineteenth century abolition movements across the Americas which did not lead to and were not intended to result in a transition from race based slave labor to race neutral wage labor for former slaves Rather the abolition of slavery led to the emergence of multi racial societies wherein capital labor relations were characterized by new forms of extra market coercion that were explicitly linked to racial categories Post slavery Brazilian society is a classic example of this pattern Working within the context of the origin of the wage labor category in classical political economy Baronov begins by questioning the central role of wage labor within capitalist production through an examination of key works by Smith Ricardo and Marx as well as the historical conditions informing their analyses The study then turns to the specific case of Brazil between 1850 1888 comparing the abolition of slavery in three Brazilian regions the northeast sugar region the Paraíba Valley and Western São Paulo Through this analysis Baronov provides a critique of the dominant interpretation of abolition as a transition from slave labor to wage labor and suggests an alternative interpretation that places a greater emphasis on the role of non wage labor forms and extra market factors in the shaping of the post slavery social order Major Problems in the History of American Workers Eileen Boris, Nelson Lichtenstein, 2003 This text designed for courses in US labor history or the history of American workers presents a carefully selected group of readings that allow students to evaluate primary sources test the interpretations of distinguished historians and draw their own conclusions Major Problems in the History of American Workers follows the proven Major Problems format with 14 15 chapters per volume a combination of documents and essays chapter introductions headnotes and suggested readings A Historical Guide to World Slavery Seymour Drescher, Stanley L. Engerman, 1998 Eminent scholars provide an overview of what we now know about slavery as an institution and way of life in cultures around the globe from ancient times to the present day Drawing on the virtual explosion of empirical research and theoretical discussion of the subject over the past thirty years many of the articles overturn conventional wisdom and illuminate little known aspects of the subject with essays on topics such as concubinage eunuchs and occupational mobility "My Mother was a Slave, Not I!" Ana Maria Rios, 2001 The International Journal of African Historical Studies, 2004 The Journal of American History Organization of American historians, 1998 Manumission, Slavery and Family in the Post-revolutionary Rural Chesapeake John Joseph Condon, 2001 Harvesting Freedom Akiko Ochiai, 2004-03-30 The African Americans of the lowcountry forged and fought for their own agrarian dreams A highlight of Sea Island history was the Port Royal Experiment when northern volunteer missionaries provided education to freedpeople and General Rufus Saxton actively initiated Sherman's Field Orders commandeering the coast for African American homesteaders When freedom gave them the chance this group embraced education and democratic self rule with abilities that even their supporters underestimated Amazon.com Scarlett Doesn't Live Here Anymore Laura F. Edwards, 2000 Establishing the household as the central institution of southern society Edwards delineates the inseparable links between domestic relations and civil and political rights in ways that highlight women s active political role throughout the nineteenth century She draws on diaries letters newspaper accounts government records legal documents court proceedings and other primary sources to explore the experiences and actions of individual women in the changing South demonstrating how family kin personal reputation and social context all merged with gender race and class to shape what particular women could do in particular circumstances
