Participation in Crime Falling within the Subject-Matter Jurisdiction of the International Criminal Court Aleksandra Nieprzecka, 2024-06-18 This book centres on the forms of participation in crime set out in the Rome Statute but it is definitely not a simple repetition or summary of the views expressed in the ICC case law. Instead the work critically elaborates on the ICC practice and presents a theoretical and dogmatic description of modes of criminal responsibility that might be found in the Statute. The element of novelty is however brought about by the methodology which encompasses a normative analysis based on the distinction between the categories of sanctioned and sanctioning norms initially introduced by K Binding in the German doctrine but for the purposes of this book adjusted to the structure of international core crimes and reconciling them with the grounds for criminal responsibility as such. Moreover the work does not avoid bold assertions concerning the norms of participation in crime concerning inter alia the concept of spectator or public approval and or direct incitement to genocide. This approach should be of particular interest to those who are under the impression that international criminal law is entangled in a multiplicity of labels and the judicial practice sometimes adopts the same requirements without any further thought or analysis. The book aims to trigger a broader debate on the merits and rationale of participation in crime and encourages readers to rethink some of the concepts developed within judicial practice. The work also takes into consideration the ICC case law in particular some tendencies that might be inferred from the separate and concurring opinions in the Ntaganda case. All in all it endeavours to reflect on the content of Article 25 3 and 28 of the Rome Statute and provide an answer on how ICC practice might and perhaps should evolve further. Aleksandra Nieprzecka Ph D is a member of the Polish Bar Association in Krak w and worked as a principal researcher in the project concerning the model of participation in crime adopted in the Rome Statute carried out at the Jagiellonian University in Krak w where she finished her doctoral studies according to the co tutelle agreement between the Jagiellonian University in Krak w and the University of Hamburg.

Rethinking Educational Leadership Nigel Bennett, Lesley Anderson, 2003-05-16 The charismatic transformational leader who creates a vision for the future of their organization and persuades others to follow their path towards it is now the dominant viewpoint that underpins government policies towards leadership development in the English speaking world. This book offers a much needed corrective to this orthodoxy by focusing on current research and thinking about leadership rather than leaders. A wide range of prominent international contributors present a rare self critical look at their own assertions and test alternative leadership models against recent research projects. They also demonstrate how their analysis is relevant to all countries where leadership is an issue. Major features include alternative theories to understanding the nature of leadership how leadership could be analyzed re analysis of recent research carried out by contributors in the light of one or more of the alternative theories examined implications of the alternative perspectives for leadership training. This book is recommended to all staff and students involved in educational leadership management or administration programmes. Slipping to Normal Bill Arthur, 2004-08 Leaders reported for white collar mischief by the media haven't done it the first time in their lives. Life just isn't that way. Immorality is a habit one develops that usually ends in headlines. In Slipping to Normal author Bill Arthur applies an adage: Every society normalizes its own moral sickness to show why we make bad choices. Slipping to Normal is about the leader whose bad choice is simply to look the other way and rationalize misconduct with attitudes such as: Everybody does it, so why bother trying to change it? As long as subordinates do their work, I don't worry about how. It is hard enough for corporate executives just to sustain focus on business objectives deep into the organization without trying to make people good. Financial reward is the only goal in business is a frequent complaint about business, but this doesn't reach the deep-seeded motivations down in the trenches. The declining influence of the church is also a factor, but it is still a player in our society. Slipping to Normal draws upon Biblical teachings to offer some ideas to regain our moral backbone.

Post-Crisis Leadership Ralph A. Gigliotti, 2024-11-15 Given the many pressures facing leaders across higher education, the work of crisis leadership remains an imperative for leaders at all levels. Attention tends to center on strategies for engaging in leadership both prior to and during crisis, often leaving the post-crisis period as an afterthought. This book introduces a research-informed framework for this critical and often neglected phase of crisis leadership. With an underlying commitment to values-based, principle-oriented and people-centered practices, this framework consists of five leadership practices that are recognized as especially critical in the aftermath of crisis: a) encourage learning, b) inspire growth, c) stimulate meaning, making d) pursue reinvention and e) advance renewal. Communication serves a critical role in each of the various dimensions of post-crisis leadership, and it is a communication orientation that can help to inform the paradoxes, processes and patterns that arise during these periods of immense tension and at times transcendence. Of Matters Military Mrinal Suman, 2021-04-01 Regular introspection is the key to the continued good health of an organisation. Complacency breeds degeneration. Hence issues that affect the wellbeing of the forces must be debated objectively to evolve timely corrective measures. The military is a social organisation consisting of living human beings who yearn for empathy, love and respect of their countrymen. When mistreated soldiers wonder if the nation understands their trials and tribulations, the organisational structure of the Indian army is like a steep pyramid. Supersession is inevitable and hits hard. On analysing this sensitive issue, the book recommends that the officers who are superseded must be handled with due compassion. The tower of the Indian army is built on the twin pillars of committed leadership and motivated soldiers. Both are intrinsically linked and are mutually contingent. The book highlights the need to diligently follow well-evolved norms for the continued sustenance of the army. Finally, whereas the welfare of ex-servicemen is the hallmark of all great nations, it is equally important for the veterans to help in nation-building programmes. Falling in Love with Nature Amanda J. Baugh, 2024-11-19 Explores the contours of Latinx Catholic environmentalism. Home-based conservationist measures such as cultivating backyard gardens, avoiding consumerism and limiting waste are widespread among Spanish-speaking Catholics across the United States. Yet these home based conservationist practices are seldom recognized as environmental because they are enacted by working class immigrant communities and do not conform to the expectations of mainstream environmentalism In Falling in Love with Nature Amanda J Baugh tells the story of American environmentalism through a focus on Spanish speaking Catholics shedding light on environmental actors who have been hidden in plain sight While dominant narratives about environmental activism include minorities primarily in the realm of environmental racism and injustice Baugh demonstrates that minority communities are not merely victims of environmental problems They can be active agents who express love for nature based on inherited family traditions and close relationships with the land Baugh shows that Spanish speaking Catholics have values that have been overlooked in global discourses grassroots movements and the highest echelons of the US Catholic Church By drawing attention to the environmental knowledge that is already abundant within Spanish speaking Catholic communities Falling in Love with Nature challenges readers to rethink their assumptions about who can be an environmental leader and what counts as environmentalism

Relationships Jason Drapeau, 2020-07-29 Life is lived with constant connection and in relationship with others But what happens when those relationships slip into frustration unforgiveness and irreconciliation Relationships Life Together in a Falling Apart World challenges popular notions that many people have about how to navigate healthy relationships and what God has to say regarding right living in a messy world Should we just let time heal all wounds or choose to never go to bed angry with one another If we have a hard time forgiving others then will we ever be forgiven by God With candor humor and personal anecdotes practical recommendations for getting severed relationships back on track and a proper understanding of healthy interaction based upon the Bible Relationships is a book that is precisely needed in our day [Looking Into Leadership Monographs \[and Training Film Index\]](#) Leadership Resources, Inc, 1961 Leadership Question & Developmental Issues Habibu Angulu Sani, 2011 The Musical Standard , 1883 The Standard , 1909
