Slaughter of the Innocents David Bakan,1978    Case Studies in Family Violence Robert T. Ammerman, Michel Hersen,2000-08-31 Since the publication of the first edition in 1991 there has been substantial progress in our understanding of the etiology and associated features of domestic violence As in the first edition this book elucidates and highlights the complex multidisciplinary issues facing clinicians who work with family violence cases Each chapter combines two illustrative cases with a broader discussion of the issues that are encountered by clinicians working with families that engage in abuse or neglect    Four Perspectives on the Status of Child Abuse and Neglect Research Herner and Company,1977

Child Abuse: Short- and long-term effects Byrgen Finkelman,1995    Slaughter of the Innocents Conseil de la radio-télévision canadienne,1971    The Battered Child Syndrome Selwyn M. Smith,1975    History of Psychology in Autobiography Leendert P. Mos,2009-06-12 Since the 17th century autobiography has an honorable place in the study of history In 1930 the preeminent historian of psychology Edwin Boring writes that a science separated from its history lacks direction and promises a future of uncertain importance To understand what psychology is and what it is becoming the autobiographies of famous psychologists is history at its best Here we find model inquirers of the science who offer a personalized account of themselves and their vocation in the context of the history of the science What is characteristic of many of those who have contributed to an alternate vision of psychological science is that they never considered themselves or were considered by others as belonging to the mainstream of the discipline In considering an alternative history of psychology in autobiography the editor invited contributors whose research and writings have pushed the discipline in other directions pushed its limits and whose scholarship finds its philosophical framework outside the discipline altogether If these contributors may not be model inquirers their scholarship is very much a matter of consequence for those who wish to understand psychology Among the outliers included here are those who devoted themselves to the writing of psychology examining its history theories research and professional practices and who enthusiastically embraced over the course of their lives the discipline as a human science Their influence has been subtle as has been their appeal to many students who affection for the discipline finds its promise in a discerning self awareness and a critical understanding of others and their worlds This volume is not simply a collection of personal chronologies which might inspire or lend appreciation to a younger generation Our contributors write from their personal and professional experience of course but they write of their thinking and understanding of the psyche as an aspect of human life of psychology as an academic form of human sciences inquiry and so bring to bear their scientific and philosophical imagination to their personal challenges in their chosen vocation as psychologists Our contributors cover a broad swath of the second half of the 20th century the century of psychology Nurturing the discipline from within various philosophical social political and cultural roots their autobiographies exemplify marginality if not alienation from the mainstream even as their professional and personal lives give expression to engaged scholarship commitment to vocation and straightforwardly and reflectively a love of the heart From Germany Carl Graumann from France Erika Apfelbaum from Canada David Bakan and Kurt Danziger and from the United States Amedeo Giorgi Robert Rieber and Joseph Rychlak relate their lives to the larger contexts of our times Their personal stories are an integral part of the historiography of our discipline Indeed a contribution to historiography of our discipline is constituted in their autobiographical self presentations for their writings attest as much to their lives as model inquirers as they do to the possibility of psychology as a human science     The Management of Child Protection Services Robert Sanders,2019-05-23 First published in 1999 The Management of Child Protection Services is not about child abuse but about child protection It is about the arrangements that professionals from different disciplines make to ensure they operate together effectively to protect the most vulnerable children in society The book examines five different contexts of child protection historical cross cultural structural managerial and professional and consideration of the operation of Area Child Protection Committees In exploring these contexts the book seeks to address such questions as how can universal standards be applied to protect vulnerable children whilst avoiding ethnocentrism and from where are derived historically and cross culturally the models of child protection adopted in the UK today It also seeks to identify the different professional contexts roles and contributions of agencies involved in child protection with a view to promoting interdisciplinary understanding These questions and understandings are necessary if changes currently being contemplated are to enhance the effectiveness of child protection

Literatuurwijzer historische pedagogiek Jan Noordman,1978     National Library of Medicine Current Catalog National Library of Medicine (U.S.),1971     Twelve to Sixteen: Early Adolescence ,1971     Sources Karen Menke Paciorek, Joyce Huth Munro,1999 Brings together over 40 selections of intellectual value classic articles book excerpts and research studies that have shaped the study of early childhood education and our contemporary understanding of it This work organizes selections around major areas of study such as teaching development learning and instruction and more     Violence and the Prevention of Violence Leonore Loeb Adler,Florence L. Denmark,1995-01-16 Under the aegis of the two grandes dames of international studies in psychology 23 experts examine violence in all of its multivarious forms around the world They find that it is present in practically every society at every socioeconomic level and in every age group The first group of essays look at violence as a societal phenomenon its motivational aspects as related to for example terrorism or machismo The second group of essays discuss violence involving children incest trauma delinquency school violence and the death penalty for youths The last section looks at adult violence particularly within the family Marital violence domestic violence substance abuse women and crime and maltreatment of elders are all presented The consensus of the study is that the eradication of violence is essential to a better world and is possible Proof of its possibility is given in the concluding description of life in Ladakh a peaceable society of Tibetans in northwestern India     Child Development and Social Policy Edward Zigler,Nancy Wilson Hall,2000 Examination of the challenges that have emerged during the past decade in the field of child development and social policy The volume emphasizes the real connections between what we know about healthy child development and what we are doing and not doing to strengthen our nation's families At the same time it paints a realistic picture of the complex and often frustrating context within which policy efforts made on behalf of children and families are conceived and developed from publisher's description Crime and the Family Alan Jay Lincoln,Murray Arnold Straus,1985 Law

Enforcement Bible No. 2 Robert A. Scanlon,1982 Child Abuse and the Criminal Justice System Kimberly A.
