

A photograph of two men standing on a wooden pier or boardwalk. The pier is made of many parallel wooden planks that recede into the distance, creating a strong sense of perspective. The man on the left has short, bleached blonde hair and is wearing a black leather jacket over a white t-shirt with a graphic. The man on the right has dark, wavy hair and is wearing a black leather jacket over a black t-shirt. Both are looking directly at the camera. The background shows a clear blue sky and some distant structures on the horizon.

Dream Runner Jennifer Tess,2011-12-01 Monsters hunt through people s dreams They re called phantoms and they re nearly unstoppable They slip into the realities between night and morning when their victims are most vulnerable The dream runners once fought them and protected humanity As the centuries passed their numbers dwindled Now Mike Carpenter is the last dream runner His parents are dead His grandfather is dead He is alone But he doesn t stop hunting the phantoms He goes through a normal life during the day and battles the phantoms at night No one knows he does this because dreamers never remember him Fighting alone he is going to die but Mike doesn t care He s lost everyone he loves and refuses to yield even as the phantoms grow stronger and begin to show signs of intelligence When Mike chases a phantom through three different dreams he stumbles into the last person he expected Cora He found his way into her dream Except this time something impossible happens She remembers him For the first time he is confronted by the chance that he might not have to fight alone
