examination of the economics of environmental valuation and biodiversity conservation to date Focusing on the Western Ghats of India one of the top biodiversity hotspots in the world this volume looks at a cross section of local communities living within or near sanctuaries and reserve forests such as coffee growers indigenous people and farmers cum pastoralists to assess the use and non use values that people derive from tropical forests It also looks at the extent of their dependence on forests for various goods and services and examines their perceptions and attitudes towards biodiversity conservation and wildlife protection The book concludes with an assessment of the institutional alternatives and policies for promoting biodiversity conservation through economic valuation methods Related titles Economics for Collaborative Environmental
