The Deserts Edge:

Sufi and Scholar on the Desert Edge Knut S. Vikør, 1995 The Sanusiya was one of the most influential Islamic movements in North Africa and the Sahara in the nineteenth century. It organised the Beduin of the desert and desert fringes into a Sufi movement that combined religious piety with trade. Later it played a key role in the resistance to French and Italian colonialism. The basis of the movement was laid by the Maghrebi scholar Muhammad b Ali al Sanusi 1787-1859 who saw his task as being to advance the growth and spread of Islamic learning in particular the study of Law and the prophetic tradition.

At the Desert's Edge Nigel Cross, Rhiannon Barker, 1991      The Sahara Jeremy Keenan, 2013-10-18 This collection examines the Sahara holistically from the earliest prehistoric times through the historical period to the present and with political direction into the future. The contributions cover palaeoclimatology, history, archaeology, cultural heritage, social anthropology, sociology, politics and international affairs. Structured chronologically, the volume can almost be read as a narrative of the Sahara from the earliest times to the present, i.e. from the past climates of the Sahara in prehistoric times to the current war on terror and its implications for the peoples of the Sahara. Importantly, the collection shows how the region must be approached holistically, highlighting the importance of each of these subject areas: palaeo-climates, history, politics, etc. in relation to each other. Indeed, the first contribution is a remarkable and unique paper bringing together the work of some 89 internationally recognised scientists to tell the story and show the relevance to the present day of the Sahara's past climates, etc. Nearly all the contributions stand in their own right at the cutting edge of research in their respective fields, e.g. archaeology, history, politics, etc. This book was previously published as a special issue of the Journal of North African Studies.

Transformations in Slavery Paul E. Lovejoy, 2011-10-10 This history of African slavery from the fifteenth to the early twentieth centuries examines how indigenous African slavery developed within an international context. Paul E. Lovejoy discusses the medieval Islamic slave trade and the Atlantic trade as well as the enslavement process and the marketing of slaves. He considers the impact of European abolition and assesses slavery's role in African history. The book corrects the accepted interpretation that African slavery was mild and resulted in the slaves' assimilation. Instead, slaves were used extensively in production, although the exploitation methods and the relationships to world markets differed from those in the Americas. Nevertheless, slavery in Africa, like slavery in the Americas, developed from its position on the periphery of capitalist Europe. This new edition revises all statistical material on the slave trade demography and incorporates recent research and an updated bibliography.

The Archaeology of Urbanism in Ancient Egypt Nadine Moeller, 2016-04-18 In this book Nadine Moeller challenges prevailing views on Egypt's non-urban past and argues for Egypt as an early urban society. She traces the emergence of urban features during the Predynastic period up to the disintegration of the powerful Middle Kingdom state c. 3500-1650 BC. This book offers a synthesis of the archaeological data that sheds light on the different facets of urbanism in ancient Egypt. Drawing on evidence from recent excavations as well as a vast body of archaeological data, this book explores the changing settlement patterns by contrasting periods of strong political control against those of decentralization It also discusses households and the layout of domestic architecture which are key elements for understanding how society functioned and evolved over time Moeller reveals what settlement patterns can tell us about the formation of complex society and the role of the state in urban development in ancient Egypt    Desert Frontier James L. A. Webb,1995 Documents the increasing aridity of the transitional zone between the full desert of the Sahara and the open grassland of western Africa the border moving 200 300 kilometers south during a brief two and half centuries and the political and economic changes as pastoral nomads of the desert edge followed the shift south and the agricultural communities in their way had to abandon their villages or face subjugation Annotation copyright by Book News Inc Portland OR    Archaeological report ,1897    The Ship in the Desert Joaquin Miller,1875 WITH deep reverence I inscribe these lines my dear parents to you I see you now away beyond the seas beyond the lands where the sun goes down in the Pacific like some great ship of fire resting still on the green hills watching your herds waiting Where rolls the Oregon And hears no sound save its own dashing Nearly a quarter of a century ago you took me the long and lonesome half year s journey across the mighty continent wild and rent and broken up and sown with sand and ashes viii and crossed by tumbling wooded rivers that ran as if glad to get away fresh and strange and new as if but half fashioned from the hand of God All the time as I tread this strange land I re live those scenes and you are with me How dark and deep how sullen strong and lion like the mighty Missouri rolled between his walls of untracked wood and cleft the unknown domain of the middle world before us
