Social Work Practice With Asian Americans:

Social Work Practice with the Asian American Elderly Namkee G Choi, 2018-10-24 This fascinating book addresses the cultures and concerns of five major ethnic groups Chinese Japanese Korean Asian Indian and Vietnamese Social Work Practice with the Asian American Elderly examines the diverse needs of this rapidly growing population It suggests interventions and service delivery models that are culturally sensitive and appropriate for these clients many of whom are first generation immigrants still closely linked with their cultures of origin This comprehensive book serves as a timely resource for both researchers and practitioners concerned with this neglected yet rapidly growing segment of the elderly population Social Work Practice with the Asian American Elderly offers both quantitative and qualitative research on essential topics including migratory grief assimilation depression elderly nutrition programs social support Social Work Practice with Immigrants and Refugees Pallassana R. Balgopal, 2000-11-01 The United States has always been a land of immigrants and a destination for refugees With the increase in immigration in the late 1980s when the number of refugees entering the United States nearly doubled as well the number of clients needing social work services rose dramatically Social Work Practice with Immigrants and Refugees takes an ecological systems perspective on working with these two distinct groups paying special attention to the relationship between individuals and their social environment Focusing on the major immigrant groups who have come to the United States since the 1965 Immigration Act the book contains chapters on immigrants and refugees from Asia Latin America Europe and Africa Pallassana R Balgopal and contributors explore ideas concepts and skills that will help human service workers social workers helping professionals and policymakers deepen their understanding of cultural attitudes toward newly arrived immigrants and refugees thus strengthening their ability to better serve an ethnically diverse clientele Social Work Practice with Ethnically and Racially Diverse Nursing Home Residents and Their Families Patricia Kolb, 2007-07-06 The first of its kind this volume is a critical companion for service providers who work with African American American Indian Chinese Italian Japanese Korean Mexican American and Puerto Rican elders and their families in nursing homes and other care settings These groups are likely to use nursing homes in larger numbers as cultural shifts such as higher divorce rates and increased outside of home employment for females transform traditional family dynamics Contributors are experience social workers and most belong to the specific ethnic or racial group that is the focus of their chapter and have also provided nursing home services to this group They provide a wealth of demographic historical cultural and practice information crucial to understanding and providing services to older adults and their families Many nursing home residents experience physical and or cognitive debilitation and increased dependence as older adults and cultural and situational differences create variations in how these changes are experienced and addressed In this volume contributors touch upon all of these areas as well as ways in which prejudice and discrimination have shaped intergenerational and other relationships for members of specific ethnic and racial groups Little has been written about the characteristics needs and experiences of racially and ethnically diverse nursing home residents and their families and requirements for culturally competent social work practice Written by social workers for social workers and other service providers this book fills a gap in a rapidly growing area of gerontological service and provides a truly comprehensive examination of cultural and practice phenomena Handbook of Social Work in Health and Aging Barbara Berkman,2006-02-09 The Handbook of Social Work in Health and Aging is the first reference to combine the fields of health care aging and social work in a single authoritative volume These areas are too often treated as discrete entities while the reality is that all social workers deal with issues in health and aging on a daily basis regardless of practice specialization As the baby boomers age the impact on practice in health and aging will be dramatic and social workers need more specialized knowledge about aging health care and the resources available to best serve older adults and their families The volume s 102 original chapters and 13 overviews written by the most experienced and prominent gerontological health care scholars in the United States and across the world provide social work practitioners and educators with up to date knowledge of evidence based practice guidelines for effectively assessing and treating older adults and their families new models for intervention in both community based practice and institutional care and knowledge of significant policy and research issues in health and aging A truly monumental resource this handbook represents the best research on health and aging available to social workers today Social Work Practice, Research, Empowerment, and Education for Koreans in the United States Anderson Sungmin Yoon,Suk-hee Kim,Mingun Lee,Juye Ji,2025-11-27 Drawing on the empirical research and practical experiences this book provides guidance on social work practice research community engagement and education by offering a comprehensive understanding of culturally sensitive social work approaches for effectively engaging with Koreans in the United States Asian Americans Pyong Gap Min,1995 Some of the issues explored are occupational and economic adjustment assimilation and ethnicity intermarriage intergroup relations demographic patterns and marital and family adjustment The chapters also discuss the impact of migration on traditional customs and values of Asian Americans as well as their impact on U S economy politics education culture and intergroup relations in cities Asian American Task Force Report: Problems and Issues in Social Work Education Council on Social Work Education. Asian American Task Force,1973 Spiritual Diversity and Social Work Edward R. Canda,2003 Edward Canda and colleagues have gathered more than 750 references on spirituality and social work in this comprehensive bibliography with more than 200 references new to the second edition Entries are organized according to topics so scholars students and practitioners can easily identify reference materials matching their interests The compilers have also written more than 150 paragraph length annotations that highlight a wide range of works within each topic Growing awareness among social workers of the role of spirituality in practical life makes this bibliography especially timely The volume s broad coverage of topics in spirituality makes it an excellent resource for readers with diverse interests in the field Pub desc Journal of Sociology and Social Welfare ,1997

Includes unpublished papers presented at the Division's meetings      Social Work Armando Morales, Bradford W. Sheafor, 1989      Mental Health and People of Color Jay C. Chunn (II), Patricia J. Dunston, Fariyal Ross-Sheriff, 1983 Includes information on acculturation alcoholism American Indians Asian and Pacific Americans bilingualism blacks Chicanos Chinese Cuban Americans cultural pluralism culture and mental health the family folk healing Hispanic culture immigration Japanese melting pot theory Philipinos Puerto Ricans racism stereotypes traditional healing Vietnamese role of women etc      Social Work, Social Welfare, and American Society Philip R. Popple, Leslie Leighninger, 1993      Social Work Practice with Asian Americans Sharlene Maeda Furuto, Renuka Biswas, Douglas Chung, Kenji Murase, Fariyal Ross-Sheriff, 1992-04-30 Insight into the profound differences between the value systems of Asian American and mainstream American culture is provided by this volume by means of a comprehensive treatment of social work theory and practice with an ethnic minority The contributors discuss both historical and contemporary experiences Asian Americans have had in adapting to and integrating into American society and explore intervention issues with specific client populations such as Vietnamese refugee women and Korean American elderly      The General Method of Social Work Practice Maria O'Neil McMahon, 1990      The Social Environment and Human Behavior Magaly Queral, 1996 This is the first Human Behavior and Social Environment HBSE book to truly integrate and emphasize multicultural material throughout the chapters and to provide readers with an introduction to the realities of practice with diverse populations It provides comprehensive balanced and in depth coverage of the subject matter rather than using a single theoretical approach      Radical Social Work and Asian Americans Lauren Kiyo Higa, 2021 This study investigates the practices that radical Asian American social workers undertake in response to the dilemmas that arise between their political beliefs and the social work profession Based on interviews with ten activist social workers selected through snowball and criterion sampling this project asks How are radical Asian American social workers shaping their practice based on a reimagination of the field This study responds to the paucity of social work literature on Asian American practitioners especially as related to the social work profession's heightened contradictions in the time of neoliberalism It remains clear that there is much for social work to learn from Asian Americans who have more radical agendas for change Heeding Robert Mullaly and Eric Keating's 1991 call that radical social workers work both inside and outside the welfare state p 69 I argue that radical Asian American social work encompasses three modes of practice infrapolitics and insurgency healing work as political practice and political and community organizing Within the welfare state interviewees engage in subversive practices or infrapolitics and insurgency to help protect and empower themselves and the people with whom they work Interviewees also take part in healing work as political practice by invoking family history and radical imaginations in a typically ahistorical space Their organizing work takes place outside traditional service organizations and involves organizing social work colleagues as well as addressing social and political forces that affect their communities lives Ultimately the work of radical Asian American social workers lead us to identify the ways white supremacy have shaped the contemporary field's lens and refuse to comply with practices we know harm communities our own or otherwise. Instead, we will offer critiques of the current structures and begin building alternate modes of practice to empower and survive pending revolution.
