Topcon Gts B Manual:

Public Works Manual ,2002      Evaluation and Development of Positioning and Monitoring Protocols for Dredged Material Disposal in Puget Sound ,1986      Surveying: Theory and Practice James M Anderson,Edward M Mikhail,1998

Drawing accurate topographical plans is a major part of field archaeology and standards need to be right up to the level of civil engineers This is the standard text for all professionals updated to incorporate the latest advances in legislation and technology especially the growth of Global Positioning System GPS precision      Evaluation of Survey Positioning Methods for Nearshore Marine and Estuarine Waters Tetra Tech, Inc,1986      The Changing Alpine Treeline David R. Butler,George P. Malanson,Stephen J. Walsh,Daniel B. Fagre,2009-03-13 The alpine treeline ecotone ATE is an area of transition high on mountains where closed canopy forests from lower elevations give way to the open alpine tundra and rocky expanses above Alpine tundra is an island biome and its ecotone with forest is subject to change and like oceanic islands alpine tundra is subject to invasion or the upward advance of treeline The invasion of tundra by trees will have consequences for the tundra biome as invasion does for other island flora and fauna To examine the invasibility of tundra we take a plant s eye view wherein the local conditions become extremely important Among these local conditions we find geomorphology to be exceptionally important We concentrate on aspects of microtopography and microgeomorphology and microclimate because these are the factors that matter from the plant s eye view but we pay attention to multiple scales At coarse scales snow avalanches and debris flows are widespread and create disturbance treelines whose elevation is well below those controlled by climate At medium scales turf banked terraces create tread and riser topography that is a difficult landscape for a tree seedling to survive upon because of exposure to wind dryness and impenetrable surfaces At fine scales turf exfoliation of the fronts of turf banked risers and boulders offer microsites where tree seedlings may find shelter and are able to gain a foothold in the alpine tundra conversely however surfaces of needle ice pans and frost heaving associated with miniature patterned ground production are associated with sites inimical to seedling establishment or survival We explicitly consider how local scale processes propagate across scales into landscape patterns The objective of this book is to examine the controls on change at alpine treeline All the papers are focused on work done in Glacier National Park Montana USA Although any one place is limiting we are able to examine the alpine treeline here in some detail and an advantage is that the treeline ecotone in Glacier National Park is quite variable in itself due to the underlying variability in geomorphology at multiple scales This book will provide insights into an important ecological phenomenon with a distinctly geomorphic perspective The editors collectively have over 100 years of experience in working in geomorphology biogeography and ecology They also have each worked on research in Glacier National Park for several decades The book will be a reference for a variety of professionals and students both graduate and undergraduate with interests in Physical Geography Geomorphology Ecology and Environmental Science Because of the importance of the alpine treeline ecotone for recreation and aesthetic interests in mountain environments wildland and park managers will also use this book Subject matter geomorphology at alpine treeline Expertise of contributors each editor brings over 25 years of experience in studies of ecotones and geomorphology and collectively over 100 years of experience in Glacier National Park Changing alpine treeline examines climate change Popular Photography, 1994-03 Improving Your Field Procedures James P. Photography, 1990-08 Earthwork Castles of Gwent and Ergyng AD 1050-1250 Neil Phillips, 2006 The aims of this work are to provide as complete a list as possible of all the timber motte and bailey castles built in the counties of Gwent and Ergyng Wales between AD 1050 and 1250 The list not only records number and place but also size shape type date of construction and date of disuse It is also intended where possible to assign building and subsequent ownership to as many of the castles as possible Using the ensuing combined database it becomes possible to plot construction development of the timber and earthwork castle across the chosen area The principal objectives are To build as complete a database as possible of the motte and bailey timber castles of the chosen areas of the Welsh March that can be assigned to the period of 1050

1250 To survey the castles and try to provide a classification system based on size and shape using medieval standard measurement To identify where possible owners or builders of each castle To recognise any patterns that may be identified i e did certain lords build or favour specific castle types If so can a lord's progress be charted through castle type spread or alternatively can castle chronology be dated by historical records To examine the concept of a rolling frontier as the motivation behind motte and bailey timber castles Research the spacing of sites in relation to earlier land use topography or resources by study of records fieldwork and aerial photographs To examine the instances of multiple castle construction within close proximity Due to the quantity of material that the research generated it was decided to include a separate data

DVD The volume contains the introduction to the study followed by a social and historical background to the area and period

Chapter 3 follows with a discussion of castle definitions and introduction to the various types of earthwork and timber castles that can be found The chapter also discusses the idea of pre conquest castle in Britain and Normandy In chapter 4 an assessment is made of present classification systems used to record castles and introduces an alternative method as employed by this study Chapter 5 introduces the methodology and research strategies employed in this study Chapter 6 contains the results of the statistical work undertaken on the findings of the study and chapter 7 presents distribution maps of the sites researched Chapter 8 discusses the study in relation to the original aims and objectives and the results of the statistical analysis and distribution maps The study is concluded in chapter 9 A gazetteer is included containing an in depth coverage of all the castles included in the study The CD contains plates topographical surveys resistivity surveys excavation reports and the spreadsheets      Popular Photography ,1994
