The Mercy of Allah Hilaire Belloc, 2023-05-30 The Mercy of Allah by Hilaire Belloc is a satirical narrative that follows the life of Mahmoud a wealthy merchant in Bagdad as he recounts his journey from poverty to affluence to his seven nephews The story begins with Mahmoud being expelled from his father's house with a mere 100 dinars Through a series of cunning and fortuitous events Mahmoud's wealth grows exponentially His adventures include stowing away on a ship deceiving a carpet collector and outsmarting a magistrate with counterfeit pearls Each episode highlights Mahmoud's shrewdness and the role of divine providence in his success Despite his questionable ethics Mahmoud attributes his fortune to the mercy of Allah emphasizing the unpredictability of fate and the folly of human change The narrative is a critique of the pursuit of wealth and the moral compromises it often entails wrapped in a humorous and engaging tale Belloc's work is a reflection on the nature of fortune the capriciousness of life and the human tendency to rationalize questionable actions when they lead to success

Mercy of Allah Hilaire Belloc, 1948-01-01 In the days of Abd er Rahman who was among the wisest and most glorious of the Commanders of the Faithful there resided in the City of Bagdad an elderly merchant of such enormous wealth that his lightest expressions of opinion caused the markets of the Euphrates to fluctuate in the most alarming manner This merchant whose name was Mahmoud had a brother in the middle ranks of Society a surgeon by profession and by name El Hakim To this brother he had frequently expressed a fixed determination to leave him no wealth of any kind It is my opinion he would say that a man's first duty is to his own children and though I have no children myself I must observe the general rule He was fond of dilating upon this subject whenever he came across his relative and would discover from time to time new and still better reasons for the resolution he had arrived at His brother received with great courtesy the prospect held out to him by the wealthy merchant but one day finding tedious the hundredth repetition of that person's pious but somewhat wearisome resolve said to him Mahmoud though it would be a mean and even an impious thing to expect an inheritance from you to any of my seven sons yet perhaps you will allow these boys to receive from your lips some hint as to the manner in which you have accumulated that great wealth which you now so deservedly enjoy By all means said Mahmoud who was ever ready to describe his own talents and success Send the little fellows round to me to morrow about the hour the public executions take place before the Palace for by that time I shall have breakfasted and shall be ready to receive them The Surgeon with profuse thanks left his brother and conveyed the good news to the seven lads who stood in order before him with the respect for parents customary in the Orient each placed according to his size and running in gradation from eight to sixteen years of age
