Gerard A. Postiglione

State Of The Worlds Children 2003 Chi:

The State of the World's Children 2005 Carol Bellamy, 2004 The 2005 edition of UNICEF's annual report examines the key issues which threaten the welfare of children around the world using the concept of childhood as the state and condition of a child's life. The Convention on the Rights of the Child adopted in 1989 offers a new definition of childhood based on human rights yet for hundreds of millions of children the promise of childhood is threatened by poverty, armed conflict and HIV/AIDS threaten their survival and development. The report examines these three major threats in detail and offers a comprehensive agenda of action to combat them. It concludes by calling on all stakeholders including governments, donors, international agencies and communities to reaffirm and recommit to their moral and legal responsibilities to children. State of the World's Children 2013 UNICEF., United Nations, 2013 One in every seven children is disabled. Children with disabilities are among the most likely to be marginalized, poor and vulnerable. UNICEF is committed to improving the lives of children, particularly those who face the greatest disadvantages. The report will investigate the web of barriers disabled children face: discrimination, harmful norms and the lack of accurate information. The report will analyse and provide good practice guidance on inclusive health and education, prevention, nutrition, protection from violence, exploitation and abuse, emergency response, institutionalization and the role of appropriate technology and infrastructure.

The State of the World's Children 2009 UNICEF., 2008 Having a child remains one of the biggest health risks for women worldwide. Fifteen hundred women die every day while giving birth. That's a half a million mothers every year. UNICEF's flagship publication, The State of the World's Children 2009, addresses maternal mortality, one of the most intractable problems for development work. The difference in pregnancy risk between women in developing countries and their peers in the industrialised world is often termed the greatest health divide in the world. A woman in Niger has a one in seven chance of dying during the course of her lifetime from complications during pregnancy or delivery. That's in stark contrast to the risk for mothers in America where it's one in 4,800 or in Ireland where it's just one in 48,000. Addressing that gap is a multidisciplinary challenge requiring an emphasis on education, human resources, community involvement and social equality. At a minimum, women must be guaranteed antenatal care, skilled birth attendants and emergency obstetrics and postpartum care. These essential interventions will only be guaranteed within the context of improved education and the abolition of discrimination.

Human Rights and Private Wrongs Alison Brysk, 2013-04-15 Human Rights and Private Wrongs breaks new ground by considering a series of fascinating issues that are normally ignored by human rights specialists because they are too private to consider as policy issues: children's labor, migration, refugee policy towards unaccompanied minors, financial matters of investor and business responsibility and complex questions involving access to the benefits of pharmaceutical research, transnational organ trafficking and the control over genetic research.

China Modernizes Randall Peerenboom, 2008-04-17 There are two sharply contrasting views of China. On the one hand, a rising superpower predicted to have the largest economy in the world by mid century on the other hand a brutal and authoritarian regime So which China is the real China This book addresses this question by exploring China s economy as well as it s legal system UN Millennium Development Library: Halving Hunger UN Millennium Project,2013-07-23 The Millennium Development Goals adopted at the UN Millennium Summit in 2000 are the world s targets for dramatically reducing extreme poverty in its many dimensions by 2015 income poverty hunger disease exclusion lack of infrastructure and shelter while promoting gender equality education health and environmental sustainability These bold goals can be met in all parts of the world if nations follow through on their commitments to work together to meet them Achieving the Millennium Development Goals offers the prospect of a more secure just and prosperous world for all The UN Millennium Project was commissioned by United Nations Secretary General Kofi Annan to develop a practical plan of action to meet the Millennium Development Goals As an independent advisory body directed by Professor Jeffrey D Sachs the UN Millennium Project submitted its recommendations to the UN Secretary General in January 2005 The core of the UN Millennium Project s work has been carried out by 10 thematic Task Forces comprising more than 250 experts from around the world including scientists development practitioners parliamentarians policymakers and representatives from civil society UN agencies the World Bank the IMF and the private sector This report lays out the recommendations of the UN Millennium Project Task Force on Hunger in seven major categories political action national policy reforms increased agricultural productivity for food insecure farmers improved nutrition for the chronically hungry productive safety nets for the acutely hungry improved rural incomes and markets and restoration and conservation of natural resources essential for food security The task force strongly endorses the Secretary General s call for a 21st Century African Green Revolution These bold yet practical approaches will enable countries in every region of the world to halve world hunger by 2015 The Atlas of Water Robin Clarke,Jannet King,2004 Covering the global picture this book provides an overview of our water consumption as well as highlighting the scarcity and quality of our most critical resource in vulnerable regions such as California the Middle East and India The State of the World's Cities Report 2006/2007 United Nations Human Settlements Programme,2006 Cities are facing enormous challenges with rapidly growing urban populations often worsening environmental conditions and deteriorating infrastructure inequalities and housing shortages unemployment crime and violence This title explains how planning and municipal government can address these challenges Verhandeligen Koninklijke Academie voor Geneeskunde van België,2004 The State of the World's Cities ,2006 China's Population Nancy E. Riley,2004 The Penguin Atlas of Women in the World Joni Seager,2009 Drawing on the latest global data and research a collection of maps and charts provides key information on the status of women around the world World Poverty Nancy Dziedzic,2006-09 Contains information and statistics on topics related to world poverty providing a definition of poverty and covering its types causes consequences and efforts to find remedies Education and Social Change in China Gerard A. Postiglione,2006 Market reform financial decentralization and economic globalization have greatly accentuated China's social and regional inequalities Education is expected to address these inequalities in a context of rapid social change including the rise of an urban middle class changed status of women resurgence of ethnic identities growing rural to urban migration and lingering poverty in remote areas But some argue that state policies have not sufficiently addressed inequitable practices and that schools actually perpetuate and reproduce inequities giving rise to a new system of social stratification driven more by market forces than socialist principles Featuring all original previously unpublished material this volume examines this argument through analysis of selected aspects of educational stratification in China during the reform era Chapters focus on the new urban middle class poor rural residents the migrant population in urban areas rural girls and ethnic minorities The contributors are established scholars in the field and they build a conceptual framework for assessing the degree to which China's educational reforms are inclusive equitable and integrative across social categories and groups

Enjoying the Tune of Phrase: An Psychological Symphony within State Of The Worlds Children 2003 Chi

In some sort of used by monitors and the ceaseless chatter of instant transmission, the melodic elegance and emotional symphony created by the published term usually fade into the backdrop, eclipsed by the relentless noise and disruptions that permeate our lives. However, situated within the pages of State Of The Worlds Children 2003 Chi a stunning fictional value overflowing with raw emotions, lies an immersive symphony waiting to be embraced. Constructed by an elegant composer of language, that charming masterpiece conducts readers on a mental trip, skillfully unraveling the hidden tunes and profound influence resonating within each cautiously constructed phrase. Within the depths with this poignant review, we can examine the book is main harmonies, analyze their enthralling publishing type, and surrender ourselves to the profound resonance that echoes in the depths of readers souls.
