Montana Department of Natural Resources and Conservation, Forested State Trust Lands, Habitat Conservation Plan
,2009 School Trust Lands Ownership Within Federal Conservation Areas United States. Congress. House. Committee on Natural Resources. Subcommittee on Public Lands and Environmental Regulation,2014 State Trust Lands Jon A.
Souder,Sally K. Fairfax,1996 An examination of state lands from a state rather than federal government perspective This study presents information from 22 US states in its discussion of state trust lands as models of public land administration Santa Rita Experimental Range--100 Years (1903 to 2003) of Accomplishments and Contributions ,2003 Proceedings RMRS. ,1998 Valuing Conservation of State Trust Lands Temple Stoellinger,2023 State trust lands are among the public natural resources that have historically been managed with a focus on extractive and consumptive use However conservation groups and state trust land managers have begun recognizing the opportunity to generate revenue through market based conservation of state trust land assets This article discusses the growing trend of generating revenue through conservation of state trust lands Conserving State Trust Lands Susan Culp,Joe Marlow,2015 States are obligated to generate income from state trust lands to fund public institutions through mining grazing agriculture or logging However this report a product of Western Lands and Communities a joint program of the Lincoln Institute and the Sonoran Institute shows how conservation can be an equally robust source of revenue From the mid 1700s to the late 1950s state trust lands were granted to states upon their entrance into the Union for the sole purpose of supporting public institutions primarily K 12 public schools Eighty five percent of the remaining 46 million acres of state trust lands are concentrated in the West This report explores current and recommended strategies to conserve state trust lands with ecological and environmental value while maintaining the trust obligation to earn revenue for K 12 schools and other beneficiaries Building on the Lincoln Institute s previous report State Trust Lands in the West Fiduciary Duty in a Changing Landscape 2006 and a companion website State Trust Lands statetrustlands org the authors evaluate the pros and cons of the conservation mechanisms that are currently available to state trust land management agencies including conservation sales and leases through easements or outright fee simple purchases contributory value and nonmonetary value ecosystems services markets and land tenure and exchange They also offer recommendations for new methods to realize revenue from conservation activity Key recommendations are to expand the use of conservation sales and leases improve the utility of contributory value in the master planning process increase access to ecosystem services markets and streamline the land tenure adjustment process which includes reform of the appraisal process Monetizing conservation will provide opportunities for land management agencies to pursue conservation options All state trusts carry the mandate to fund beneficiaries in perpetuity indicating the need for sustainable land management practices State Trust Lands in the West Peter W. Culp,Andy Laurenzi,Cynthia C.

Tuell,2006 Concentrated in nine western states 42 million acres of state trust land represent an important public resource Trust land managers responsible for upholding the fiduciary purpose of these lands for the designated beneficiaries primarily K 12 public schools must actively and deliberately take advantage of opportunities to generate revenues while ensuring the long term sustainability of the trust This policy focus report offers an overview of the history and unique aspects of state trust lands and presents examples of new management strategies and tools that focus on asset management residential and commercial development conservation use and collaborative planning Revised Statutes of the United States, Passed at the First Session of the Forty-third Congress, 1873-74; Embracing the Statutes of the United States, General and Permanent in Their Nature, in Force on the First Day of December, One Thousand Eight Hundred and Seventy-three, as Revised and Consolidated by Commissioners Appointed Under an Act of Congress (etc.).
