Staying Up:

Visa Requirements of Foreign Governments United States. Passport Office, 1977 Choice Over Time George Loewenstein, Jon Elster, 1992-10-27 Many of our most urgent national problems suggest a widespread lack of concern for the future. Alarming economic conditions such as low national savings rates, declining corporate investment in long term capital projects, and ballooning private and public debt are matched by such social ills as diminished educational achievement, environmental degradation, and high rates of infant mortality, crime, and teenage pregnancy. At the heart of all these troubles lies an important behavioral phenomenon in the role of consumer, manager, voter, student, or parent: many Americans choose inferior but immediate rewards over greater long term benefits. Choice Over Time offers a rich sampling of original research on intertemporal choice: how and why people decide between immediate and delayed consequences from a broad range of theoretical and methodological perspectives in philosophy, political science, psychology, and economics. George Loewenstein, Jon Elster, and their distinguished colleagues review existing theories and forge new approaches to understanding significant questions: Why do people seem to discount future benefits? Do individuals use the same decision making strategy in all aspects of their lives? What part is played by situational factors such as the certainty of delayed consequences? How are decisions affected by personal factors such as willpower and taste? In addressing these issues, the contributors to Choice Over Time address many social, economic, psychological, and personal time problems. Their work demonstrates the predictive power of short term preferences in behavior as varied as addiction and phobia, the effect of prices on consumption, and the dramatic rise in debt and decline in savings. Choice Over Time provides an essential source for the most recent research and theory on intertemporal choice, offering new models for time preference patterns and their aberrations, and presenting a diversity of potential solutions to the problem of temporal myopia.

Advanced Manufacturing and Automation XIII Yi Wang, Tao Yu, Kesheng Wang, 2024-02-24 The book is a compilation of selected papers from the 13th International Workshop of Advanced Manufacturing and Automation IWAMA 2023 held in Shanghai University of Engineering Science China on 15-16 October 2023. Topics focusing on novel techniques for manufacturing and automation in Industry 4.0 are now vital factors for the maintenance and improvement of the economy of a nation and the quality of life. It will help academic researchers and engineers to implement the concept, theory, and methods in Industry 4.0 which has been a hot topic. These proceedings will make valuable contributions to academic researchers, engineers, and industry for the challenges in the 4th industry revolution and smart factories.

Flag Burning and Free Speech Robert Justin Goldstein, 2000 When Gregory Lee Johnson burned an American flag as part of a political protest, he was convicted for flag desecration under Texas law. But the Supreme Court, by a contentious 5 to 4 margin, overturned that conviction, claiming that Johnson's action constituted symbolic speech and thus protected speech. Heated debate continues to swirl around that controversial decision, both hailed as a victory for free speech advocates and reviled as an abomination that erodes the patriotic foundations of American democracy Such passionate yet contradictory views are at the heart of this landmark case Book jacket A dictionary of the leading technical and trade terms of architectural design and building construction, by the editor of 'The Technical journal and industrial self-instructor Ward, Lock and co, ltd,1891 The Oxford Movement Richard William Church,1892 Chambers's Edinburgh journal, conducted by W.
