Before installing Your Cable Modem

Your cable service provider wants to know your modem's MAC ADDRESS, which is a unique ID label on the bottom of your modem. This information identifies your cable modem service as your device's identification by linking the cable company (ISP/DSL) to the cable modem. Because this ID label is provided to the cable company, it is important to know your modem's MAC ADDRESS. If you need the modem's serial number, you can find it from the MAC address on the modem's label.

System Requirements

- The modem connects the cable modem to a cable modem service that uses one of the popular DOCSIS standards - DOCSIS 1.1, 2.0, or 3.1. If you need to get cable modem service, please speak with your cable service provider.
- To use the Quick Start, you need a computer, an iPod™, or another tablet.

If your cable service provider provided a cable modem starter kit, please confirm with them that you have your cable modem. The kit may include a modem cable for connecting your modem to your cable service. (The cable service may also provide a modem-to-modem cable or a modem-to-modem-to-modem cable, and you may need a different cable.) If you need a kit for this, see the information that you need for the kit's requirements and confirm it includes the cable modem/Router. The modem is DOCSIS 3.1 compatible, Cable-DOCS, and connects to a normal cable modem.

If your cable service provider provided a cable modem starter kit

Some cable service providers supply a cable modem starter kit that includes the modem cable for connecting your modem to your cable service. (The cable service may also provide a modem-to-modem cable or a modem-to-modem-to-modem cable, and you may need a different cable.) If you need a kit for this, see the information that you need for the kit's requirements and confirm it includes the cable modem/Router. The modem is DOCSIS 3.1 compatible, Cable-DOCS, and connects to a normal cable modem.

You should be able to connect the modem's power cord, connect the cable modem service cable to your cable, and then connect to a computer using either the Ethernet (Ethernet) or the wireless feature (see using the Cable Modem/Router to Wire a Wireless Computer).

Note: Please refer to the Hardware Connection section. Your modem will be in a stage of the boot state cable modem with a description of the connection.

After you have installed your cable modem with the information that you need, your cable modem will connect your computer to the Internet.

Note: Please refer to the Hardware Connection section for the best results. The cable modem/Router must be connected to a computer using either the Ethernet (Ethernet) or the wireless feature (see using the Cable Modem/Router to Wire a Wireless Computer).

Now open your browser and go to the website that you need. Check that the cable modem is working.
