The Map Stories In Time:

Time in Maps Kären Wigen, Caroline Winterer, 2020-11-20 As wide ranging imaginative and revealing as the maps they discuss these essays track how maps interpreted broadly convey time as well as space Richard White Stanford University Maps organize us in space but they also organize us in time Looking around the world for the last five hundred years Time in Maps shows that today's digital maps are only the latest effort to insert a sense of time into the spatial medium of maps Historians Karen Wigen and Caroline Winterer have assembled leading scholars to consider how maps from all over the world have depicted time in ingenious and provocative ways Focusing on maps created in Spanish America Europe the United States and Asia these essays take us from the Aztecs documenting the founding of Tenochtitlan to early modern Japanese reconstructing nostalgic landscapes before Western encroachments to nineteenth century Americans grappling with the new concept of deep time The book also features a defense of traditional paper maps by digital mapmaker William Rankin With more than one hundred color maps and illustrations Time in Maps will draw the attention of anyone interested in cartographic history

Godey's Lady's Book, 1897 Storymen Hannah Rachel Bell, 2009-11-04 What do the artistic works of acclaimed author Tim Winton and eminent Ngarinyin lawman Bungar David Mowaljarlai have in common According to Hannah Rachel Bell they both reflect sacred relationship with the natural world the biological imperative of a male rite of passage an emergent urban tribalism and the fundamental role of story in the transmission of cultural knowledge In Bell's four decade friendship with Mowaljarlai she had to confront the cultural assumptions that sculpted her way of seeing The journey was life changing When she returned to teaching in 2001 Tim Winton's novels featured in the curriculum She recognised an eerie familiarity and thought Winton must have been influenced by traditional elders to express such an indigenous perspective She wrote to him This resulted in 4 years of correspondence and an excavation of converging world views exposed through personal memoir letters paintings and conversations and culminating in Storymen

Old Texts Elton Barker,Stefan Bouzarovski,Christopher Pelling,Leif Isaksen,2015-12-03 Maps dominate the modern sense of place and geography Yet so far as we can tell maps were rare in the Greco Roman world and when mentioned in sources are mistrusted and criticized Today technological advances have brought to the fore an entirely new set of methods for representing and interacting with space In contrast to traditional topographic perspectives the territorial extent of economic and political realms is increasingly conceived through a topological lens in which the nature and frequency of links among different sites matter more than the physical distances between them New Worlds from Old Texts focuses on the ancient Greek experience of space conceived of in terms of both its literature and material culture remains and uses this to reflect on modern thinking Comprising twelve chapters written by a highly interdisciplinary range of contributors this edited collection explores the rich array of representational devices employed by ancient authors whose narrative depictions of spatial relations defy the logic of images and surfaces that dominates contemporary cartographic thought The volume focuses on Herodotus Histories a text that is increasingly cited by Classicists as an example of how ancient perceptions of space may have been rather different to the modern cartographic view but also considers perceptions of space through the lens of other authors genres cultural contexts and disciplines In doing so it reveals how a study of the ancient world can be reinvigorated by and in turn help to shape modern technological innovation and methods The Story of Rome from the Earliest
