Janet Quin-Harkin

Sleepover Madness:

Sleepover Madness Janet Quin-Harkin, 1995 Harkin creates a new multi ethnic series about the friendship of three 11 year old girls Kaitlin Emily and Lexie featuring warm funny stories with a sprinkling of mystery Though their differences are great the girls enjoy a sleepover making popcorn watching scary movies and plotting revenge on their gym teacher Mr Meany

Sleeping With the Lights On Darryl Jones, 2018-10-04 Four o'clock in the morning and the lights are on and still there's no way we're going to sleep not after the film we just saw The book we just read Fear is one of the most primal human emotions and one of the hardest to reason with and dispel So why do we scare ourselves It seems almost mad that we would frighten ourselves for fun and yet there are thousands of books films games and other forms of entertainment designed to do exactly that As Darryl Jones shows the horror genre is huge Ranging from vampires ghosts and werewolves to mad scientists Satanists and deranged serial killers the cathartic release of scaring ourselves has made its appearance in everything from Shakespearean tragedies to internet memes Exploring the key tropes of the genre including its monsters its psychological chills and its love affair with the macabre Darryl Jones discusses why horror stories disturb us and how society responds to literary and film representations of the gruesome and taboo Should the enjoyment of horror be regarded with suspicion Are there different levels of the horrific and should we distinguish between the commonly reviled carnage of contemporary torture porn and the culturally acceptable bloodbaths of ancient Greek tragedies Analysing the way in which horror manifests multiple personalities and has been used throughout history to articulate the fears and taboos of the current generation Jones considers the continuing evolution of the genre today As horror is mass marketed to mainstream society in the form of romantic vampires and blockbuster hits it also continues to maintain its former shadowy presence on the edges of respectability as banned films and violent internet phenomena push us to question both our own preconceptions and the terrifying capacity of human nature

The Squirrel that Dreamt of Madness @craigstone_, 2016-04-22 What do you do when the voice in your head is telling you to walk out of your job and follow your dreams What would happen if you listened to the voice in your head What if you walked out of your job left your home and a few hours later found yourself jobless and homeless sitting on a park bench with a pad and a pen and a desperate hope that the book you are going to write in the park will eventually change your life That's what Craig Stone professional nobody did This is the story he made up to keep his sanity while living alone in Gladstone Park North London as he came to terms with the consequences of making bold decisions He sat under a tree writing about what it was like to be living under a tree Craig was determined to write a book that would get him out of the park a book so original it would be published and change the course of his life The Squirrel that Dreamt of Madness is his story An imaginative mix of fantasy and his own experiences this funny and sometimes poignant tale will appeal to those looking for an original and edgy take on autobiographical writing One of our favourite guests of the year and we seriously say that to very few people The BBC Comedy Caf
