Modernisation, Crisis and Culture in Ireland, 1969-1992 Conor McCarthy,2000 This book offers a series of readings in Irish culture in the light of the set of crises that beset the project of modernization in Ireland from the late 1960s onwards These crises are argued to have contributed to a crisis of representation that has afflicted a variety of intellectuals novelists playwrights filmmakers and literary critics McCarthy locates the source of this problem in the overly narrow conceptualization of modernization and modernity that has held sway in Irish intellectual life since the 1960s and in a lack of attention paid to the negative aspects of the processes of modernization In particular McCarthy points to the need to find a more nuanced response to the legacies of nationalism as we move into the 21st century      The Archaeology of Capitalism in Colonial Contexts Sarah K. Croucher,Lindsay Weiss,2011-08-10 The Archaeology of Capitalism in Colonial Contexts Postcolonial Historical Archaeologies explores the complex interplay of colonial and capital formations throughout the modern world The authors present a critical approach to this topic trying to shift discourses in the theoretical framework of historical archaeology of capitalism and colonialism through the use of postcolonial theory This work does not suggest a new theoretical framework as such but rather suggests the importance of revising key theoretical terms employed within historical archaeology arguing for new engagements with postcolonial theory of relevance to all historical archaeologists as the field de centers from its traditional locations Examining case studies from North America South America the Caribbean Africa Australia the Middle East and Europe the chapters offer an unusually broad ranging geography of historical archaeology with each focused on the interplay between the particularisms of colonial structures and the development of capitalism and wider theoretical discussions Every author also draws attention to the ramifications of their case studies in the contemporary world With its cohesive theoretical framework this volume is a key resource for those interested in decolonizing historical archaeology in theory and praxis and for those interested in the development of modern global dynamics Ireland and the Irish in Interwar England Mo Moulton,2014-04-03 To what extent did the Irish disappear from English politics life and consciousness following the Anglo Irish War Mo Moulton offers a new perspective on this question through an analysis of the process by which Ireland and the Irish were redefined in English culture as a feature of personal life and civil society rather than a political threat Considering the Irish as the first postcolonial minority she argues that the Irish case demonstrates an English solution to the larger problem of the collapse of multi ethnic empires in the twentieth century Drawing on an array of new archival evidence Moulton discusses the many varieties of Irishness present in England during the 1920s and 1930s including working class republicans relocated southern loyalists and Irish enthusiasts The Irish connection was sometimes repressed but it was never truly forgotten this book recovers it in settings as diverse as literary societies sabotage campaigns drinking clubs and demonstrations Resources in Education ,1986 Paperbound Books in Print ,1983 U.S. Catholic Historian ,2004 Whitaker's Books in Print ,1998 The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells,2002 Environment and Planning ,2002 International interdisciplinary journal discussing the relations between Society and Space Space is broadly conceived from landscapes of the body to global geographies from cyberspace to old growth forests as metaphorical and material as theoretical construct and empirical fact Covers both practical politics and the abstractions of social theory The Publisher ,1910 History of the Counties of McKean, Elk, Cameron and Potter, Pennsylvania Michael A.
