Slip Slop Gobble:

Slip! Slop! Gobble! Jeanne B. Hardendorff, 1970 The Cat and the Parrot were the best of friends until the Parrot invited the Cat to dinner How to Tell Stories to Children, and Some Stories to Tell Sara Cone Bryant, 2022-06-02 Sara Cone Bryant's seminal work How to Tell Stories to Children and Some Stories to Tell weaves together pedagogical wisdom with the enchanting world of children's literature. Within its pages Bryant elucidates the artistry behind storytelling, delving into principles and techniques often overlooked yet vital for captivating a young audience. The literary style of this book is instructional yet infused with warmth, mirroring the tenderness of the intended storytelling encounters. Each chapter progresses with a clear, thoughtful exposition of storytelling methods while also situating itself in early 20th-century literary context when the oral tradition began to be considered as a structured educational approach. Sara Cone Bryant, an educator and author, infused her book with experiences gleaned from her extensive career in teaching. Her passionate belief in the transformative power of storytelling in the development of children's cognitive and emotional intelligences shines through the text. The theories she presents are not abstract but rooted in her observations and interactions with children, reflecting a deep understanding of their imaginative capacities and the nuances of communicating effectively with them. This book is recommended not only for educators and parents seeking to enrich the minds and hearts of children but also for anyone interested in the timeless craft of storytelling. Bryant offers a treasure trove of short, vibrant tales ready to be brought to life alongside an insightful guide to doing so with grace and impact. Her work is a resonant reminder of the profound simplicity in connecting with a child through a well-told story 365 Bedtime Stories Christine Allison, 2011-03-02 Arranged as a lively journey through the year, 365 Bedtime Stories includes stories for every mood, occasion, and day of the year. There are stories celebrating the New Year beginnings and second chances, myths about the arrival of spring, foolhardy stories for April, tales of independence for July, spooky tales for October, nights soothing tales for difficult days, tales of gratitude and thanksgiving, and miracles for the year end. Although each story is designed to be read aloud, the charming drawings and sidebars on storytelling that accompany them are likely to inspire both readers and listeners to add their own imaginative embellishments along the way. Designed for children from ages 2 to 10 years old, these entertaining stories are short enough, one half to one and a half pages long, to make it easy for readers to agree to the just one more story their listeners are sure to request Brother Rabbit and Other Stories for Little Ones - Illustrated by Honor C. Appleton Sara Cone Bryant, 2013-04-16 Pook Press celebrates the great Golden Age of Illustration in children's literature. Many of the earliest children's books, particularly those dating back to the 1850s and before, are now extremely scarce and increasingly expensive. Pook Press is working to republish these classic works in affordable, high-quality colour editions using the original text and artwork so these works can delight another generation of children. About the Illustrator: Honor Charlotte Appleton (1879-1951) was known for her delicate watercolour illustrations, influenced by Kate Greenaway and Arthur Rackham. She illustrated more than 100

children's books during her career including Alice in Wonderland, Aladdin and Black Beauty but it was for her editions of Hans Christian Andersen's fairy tales and her illustrations of Josephine in H C Craddock's series that she received most universal acclaim

Early Childhood Language Arts Mary Renck Jalongo, 2000 Early Childhood Language Arts Second Edition is a comprehensive look at early childhood literacy education. Unlike most early literacy books, it includes listening, speaking, reading and writing with a strong children's literature emphasis throughout. This text provides instructors with a synthesis of the information on language arts gleaned from research on emergent literacy, early childhood education and special education. It underscores what is being emphasized in early childhood teacher accreditation programs, namely responding to the increasingly diverse needs of young language learners in inclusive settings, working with parents and families and collaborating with professionals in other fields. Each chapter provides a discussion of the key concepts in the chapter followed by case material that demonstrates how teachers, families and professionals in other fields can work together to promote the literacy growth and development of a young child. The content and examples throughout every chapter enable students to see how children go through the process of acquiring literacy and how literacy learning occurs with diverse groups of learners. The body of every chapter concludes with a section on teacher concerns and basic strategies, developmentally appropriate activities, teacher self-assessment and information on standards as they relate to the content of each chapter
