Oracle 10g Grid and Real Application Clusters Mike Ault,Madhu Tumma,Ranko Masic,2004-08 Revealing the secrets for quickly implementing and tuning Oracle RAC database systems this book covers all areas of Oracle Real Application Clusters including Oracle10g new features Oracle DBAs who are charged with configuring and implementing a RAC clusters database will benefit from this complete guide to the installation as well as configuration and design of Oracle Real Application Clusters Information is supplied on expert internals of shared disk technology raw devices and RAID with RAC the internal concurrency resource coordination and the locking mechanism within RAC Also explained are Transparent Application Failover TAF and monitoring and tuning Oracle10g RAC applications Computerworld ,2006-03-27 For more than 40 years Computerworld has been the leading source of technology news and information for IT influencers worldwide Computerworld s award winning Web site Computerworld com twice monthly publication focused conference series and custom research form the hub of the world s largest global IT media network ICT Innovations 2011 Ljupco Kocarev,2012-03-22 Information and Communication Technologies has enlarged its horizon and it is practiced under multidisciplinary contexts that introduce new challenges to theoretical and technical approaches The most critical benefit of introducing new ICT technologies in our real world living are the new ways of working that the online world makes possible Complexity uncertainty and scaling issues of real world problems as well as natural phenomena in ecology medicine and biology demanding ICT assistance create challenging application domains for artificial intelligence decision support and intelligence systems wireless sensor networks pervasive and ubiquitous computing multimedia information systems data management systems internet and web applications and services computer networks security and cryptography distributed systems GRID and cloud computing This book offers a collection of papers presented at the Third International Conference on ICT Innovations held in September 2011 in Skopje Macedonia The conference gathered academics professionals and practitioners in developing solutions and systems in the industrial and business arena especially innovative commercial implementations novel applications of technology and experience in applying recent ICT research advances to practical solutions InfoWorld ,1988-10-10 InfoWorld is targeted to Senior IT professionals Content is segmented into Channels and Topic Centers InfoWorld also celebrates people companies and projects Boolean Functions and Computation Models Peter Clote,Evangelos Kranakis,2013-03-09 The foundations of computational complexity theory go back to Alan Thring in the 1930s who was concerned with the existence of automatic procedures deciding the validity of mathematical statements The first example of such a problem was the undecidability of the Halting Problem which is essentially the question of debugging a computer program Will a given program eventu ally halt Computational complexity today addresses the quantitative aspects of the solutions obtained Is the problem to be solved tractable But how does one measure the intractability of computation Several ideas were proposed A Cobham Cob65 raised the question of what is the right model in order to measure a computation step M Rabin Rab60 proposed the introduction of axioms that a complexity measure should satisfy and C Shannon Sha49 suggested the boolean circuit that computes a boolean function However an important question remains What is the nature of computation In 1957 John von Neumann vN58 wrote in his notes for the Silliman Lectures concerning the nature of computation and the human brain that logics and statistics should be primarily although not exclusively viewed as the basic tools of information theory Also that body of experience which has grown up around the planning evaluating and coding of complicated logical and mathematical automata will be the focus of much of this information theory The most typical but not the only such automata are of course the large electronic computing machines

Enabling Health and Healthcare Through ICT Karen L. Courtney, Omid Shabestari, Alex Mu-Hsing Kuo, 2013 For many people in both developing and developed countries universal healthcare is still not the norm Socio economic status and geographical restrictions have proved to be major barriers to accessible care The use of information and communication technologies ICT is growing rapidly internationally as the need to provide more efficient and cost effective care becomes increasingly urgent Improving the health of a nation begins with the individual and recent developments in genomics and mobile networked information technologies have regenerated interest in individualizing healthcare Harnessing the diversity and ubiquity of available ICT may be one of the keys to enabling more accessible healthcare across both geographic and socio economic divides This book presents the proceedings of the 2013 Information Technology and Communication in Health ITCH 2013 conference This conference entitled Available Tailored and Closer was held in Victoria BC Canada in February 2013 The theme of the ITCH 2013 conference was realizing the enabling potential of information and communications technology worldwide Papers in this book are arranged according to subject Sections include electronic health records telecare telemedicine and telelaboratory public health informatics clinical decision support systems human computer interaction patient safety and healthcare modeling among others This book will be of interest to all those involved in providing improved and cost effective healthcare worldwide
