Darwin Machines and the Nature of Knowledge Henry Plotkin, 1997 Learn and survive Behind this simple equation lies a revolution in the study of knowledge which has left the halls of philosophy for the labs of science This book offers a cogent account of what such a move does to our understanding of the nature of learning rationality and intelligence Bringing together evolutionary biology psychology and philosophy Henry Plotkin presents a new science of knowledge one that traces an unbreakable link between instinct and our ability to know Contrary to the modern liberal idea that knowledge is something derived from experience this science shows us that what we know is what our nature allows us to know what our instincts tell us we must know Since our ability to know our world depends primarily on what we call intelligence intelligence must be understood as an extension of instinct Drawing on contemporary evolutionary theory especially notions of hierarchical structure and universal Darwinism Plotkin tells us that the capacity for knowledge which is what makes us human is deeply rooted in our biology and in a special sense is shared by all living things This leads to a discussion of animal and human intelligence as well as an appraisal of what an instinct based capacity for knowledge might mean to our understanding of language reasoning emotion and culture The result is nothing less than a three dimensional theory of our nature in which all knowledge is adaptation and all adaptation is a specific form of knowledge All Round the World William Ainsworth,1875 Guinness World Records 2005 Claire Folkard,2004 This special collectable golden anniversary edition features all the classic records World s Tallest Man Most Women s Olympic Water Polo Titles Australia Sydney 2000 Longest running TV Chat Show The Tonight Show and many more Also includes plenty of new exciting records Special 50th Anniversary Edition Please note this book is not published until October 2004 How to rise in the world; or, Every-day progress John Townsend Trowbridge,1875 Animal Champions 2 Ann Elwood,Marjorie Shaw,1995 Discusses unusual animals which stand out for their abilities or appearance The Children's Encyclopedia Arthur Mee,1910 St. Nicholas Mary Mapes Dodge,1879
