the granitic areas of southern Norway and Sweden contain lakes which are in the process of acidification. The biological resources of these affected areas are of considerable national concern. However, while clearly damaging effects of acidification on freshwater systems have been well documented, the impact of acid precipitation on terrestrial systems has not been so well understood.

Environmental Ecology Bill Freedman, 1995. Like ecology, environmental science is multi and interdisciplinary. The three major subdisciplines of environmental science are Population Resources, Environment. Of the above three major subdisciplines with environmental science, this book is more concerned with the third, the ecological effects of stressors with particular reference to those associated with the activities of humans. A chapter deals with the use and abuse of biological resources and the emerging field of ecological economics. Some sections deal with environmental impact assessment, ecological monitoring and the responsibilities of ecologists in environmental issues, environmental education and the design of sustainable economic systems.
