in various samples and phases as the main research tool. The first section is devoted to studies focusing on the distribution of isotopes in precipitation, groundwater, lakes, rivers, springs, tap water, mine water, and their relationship with terrestrial environments at regional to continental scale. In relation to this, the second section includes case studies from a range of continental settings investigating cave deposits, stalagmites, bat guano, animal skeletons, dinosaurs, alligators, turtles, bivalves, present and past soils, palaeosols, and limestones. The sections focus on the interaction between the surficial water cycle and underground water storage with deposits acting as archives of short to long term climatic and environmental changes.

Examples from the Early Cretaceous to present time come from Europe, Asia, Africa, North and South America.

Managing Disruptions in Business Rajagopal, Ramesh Behl, 2022-01-11 This volume discusses business disruptions as strategic to gain market competitiveness. It analyzes the convergence of innovation and technology, business practices, public policies, political ideologies, and consumer values to strengthen competitive business practices through disruptions. Bringing together contributions from global experts, the chapters add to knowledge on contemporary business models, business strategies, radical interventions in manufacturing, services, and marketing organizations. Disruptive innovations led by contemporary trends tend to transform the market and consumers' landscape. These trends include shifts from closed to open models of innovation, servitization, and moving from conventional manufacturing and marketing paradigms to Industry 4.0 business philosophy. Focused on the triadic themes of disruption, innovation, and management in emerging markets, this book serves as a valuable compendium for research in entrepreneurship development, regional business and development, contemporary political ideologies, and changing social values.
